SALARY REDUCTION PLAN LOST

PLEA FOR FAIRER AND MORE UNIFORM TAXATION IS MADE

ABOLISHMENT OF STATE AD VALOREM TAXES URGED; SUBSTITUTES RECOMMENDED

AUSTIN, Jan. 12.—(AP)—Governor R. S. Sterling, in a final message today to the Texas legislature before he retires from the chief executiveship next Tuesday, made a plea for a "fairer and more uniform" system of taxation and told the lawmakers of a necessity for "far reaching" curtailment of public expenditures.

He recommended that the ad valorem tax for state revenue purposes be abolished and consumers' sales and income tax levies substituted for the charge heretofore made on homes, farms and ranches for support of the government.

Governor Sterling expressed disagreement, in part, with proposed plans of a legislative committee on organization and economy, which recommended an entirely new governmental administrative structure, reducing the existing 131 departments, bureaus, boards and commissions into nineteen agencies and providing that only the governor, lieutenant governor and attorney general be elected by popular vote.

The retiring governor, to be succeeded by Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson, who returns to that office after a lapse of six years since she occupied it in 1925-27 as the state's first woman chief executive, reviewed accomplishments of his administration and suggested innovations in government he commended as worthy of serious attention of the legislators, starting a four months session.

"It is my sincere hope that this legislature will be able to surmount all the difficulties that beset its path; that the government of Texas may preserve its stability, and that all the people of this great state will soon emerge from the shadows of depressions into [illegible]e sunshine of happiness and [illegible]sperity," he said.

Welfare of State at Heart.

"My final word is a wish—nay, a prayer—for the welfare of the state which I have been privileged to serve as governor; the state in which I was born and have lived my life. Although my s[illegible] was rendered during the most critical period of the state's modern history, it has been rewarded by the deep satisfaction of accomplishment. I shall retire secure in the consciousness of having done my best for Texas, and with no regret save that I could not do more."

Governor Sterling recommended changes in the election laws and suggested that terms of all state, district and county offices be extended to four years. He would fix the term of state senators at six years. They now are elected four years.

"Like private enterprises, the state government has suffered a sharp and tremendous falling off of revenues," he said. "Yet the expenditures are still nearly as high as ever. The changed condi-

PREPARATIONS FOR JEHOL INVASION BY JAPS GOING FORWARD

THIRTY - FIVE TRAINLOADS TROOPS REPORTED HEADED FOR CHINA TERRITORY

SHANGHAI, Jan. 12.—(AP)—Japanese airplanes were reported as scouting today over Jehol (Cheng-Te), former summer residence of the Manchu emperors and now the capital of Jehol province, and Chao-Yang, near the Manchurian border. These are the two principal cities of Jehol, about 140 miles apart.

Chinese newspapers which reproted the sighting of the planes, also announced receips of dispatches from Southern Jehol and Manchuria stating that Japanese were engaged in feverish preparations for an invasion of Jehol. Military leaders predicted sharp fighting if a Japanese expedition already in the anicent Chinese province continued an advance toward Lingyuan, about 100 miles northeast of Jehol City.

(Lingyan is about 90 miles northwest of Shanhaikwan and the section of the great wall of China where Sino-Japanese fighting has occurred during the past two days. The wall forms the southern boundary of Jehol.)

The Koumin (Government) news agency stated that 35 trainloads of Japanese troops departed from Mukden, Manchuria, for Chinchow, Japanese army base east of Jehol border, and for Tahushan and Kowpangtse.

ANOTHER CHANGE PROMISED IN SOVIET SYSTEM REMEDY SERIOUS SHORTAGE OF FOOD

BY STANLEY B. RICHARDSON
(Associated Press Correspondent.)

MOSCOW, Jan. 12.—(AP)—Abolition of the depressing grain "collections" system, in effect for the past five years, was officially predicted today as a means of remedying the serious food shortage in Russia.

President Vyacheslaff M. Molotoff, the "front" of soviet government, said in a speech made public last night that the present cumulative "collections" system probably would be replaced by a definite grain "tax" in kind, levied in advance of sowing.

Under the present system of levying upon deliveries on a basis of possibilities, producton fell off greatly because peasants knew the more raised, the more the government would take.

"The supply of manufactured goods and of food must be improved," said Molotoff, who is charged with execution of government decisions, in announcing capital investment in industry this year will amout to 18,000,000,000 rubles (nominally about $9,000,000,000).

Ths was a little more than "actually invested" in 1932, although under the first five year plan for that year, an expenditure of 21,000,000,000 rubles was planned.

In virtual agreement with the recommendations made public three days ago in a speech by Joseph V. Stalin, chief of the communist party, Molotoff said there would be an increase of 16.5 per cent in this year's production over 1932's. Stalin set the figure roughly at 16 per cent in his speech.

While declaring the first five year plan "was accomplished,' 'in little more than four years, Molotoff disclosed that key industrial production for 1932 increased only 8.5 per cent of 1931 whereas only a 34.7 per cent increase was listed to permit fulfillment of the plan.

CHIEF OF STAFF RANKS AMERICA ON MILITARY STRENGTH

POINTS OUT OTHER NATIONS INCREASE ARMIES; U. S. RANKS SEVENTEENTH

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—(AP)—General Douglas MacArthur, chief of staff, ranks the United States seventeenth in military strength of land forces among the nations of the world.

Warning a house appropriations sub-committee that "we are living in troublesome times," the army leader said "practically all other nations are increasing their strengths" while the United States has reduced its forces.

Demands of the budget for economy, he said, through limitations proposed on training of the [illegible]ional guard and other reserve [illegible]onents of the army, "strike [illegible] the very principle on which our system of national defense is based."

Questioned by Representative Collins of Mississippi, chairman of the sub-committee, the general ranked Russia at the top of the list in organized active and trained reserves with a total of 18,873,000. France was second with 6,976,000; Italy, 6,498,000; Spain 2,324,000; Japan, 2,177,000, while the British Empire was ranked eleventh with 1,163,000, or below Poland, China, Rumania, Czecho-

WAR DEPARTMENT'S APPROPRIATION BILL GREATLY REDUCED

MILITARY AND NON-MILITARY BUDGETS REDUCED IN BILL SENT HOUSE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—(AP)—The continuing drive for economy brought to the house today from its appropriations committee a bill recommending $31,584,000 less to carry on the military activities of the war department next year than was allowed for this.

The same measure also allowed $79,324,000 less for non-military work, but much of this reduction was due to non-recurring emergency construction authorized last session and not continued in the new bill.

As submitted to the house, the bill would allow $273,079,000 for military and $72,743,000 for non-military activities for the 1934 fiscal year. This was an apparent reduction of $110,000,000 from this year but $50,000,000 of this was accounted for by non-recurring emergency construction.

Among the principal items in the bill are: $39,388,000 for rivers and harbers maintenance work, without specific allocations in the bill; $225,484 for Muscle Shoals; $19,654,000 for Mississippi river flood control not specifically allocated; $768,480 for flood control on the Sacramento river, Calif:; $11,160,000 for the Panama Canal; $3,354,000 for the reserve officers' training corps; $35,000,000 for the national guard; $2,344,000 for West Point; $2,035,000 for seacoast defenses; $1,303,000 for chemical warfare; $23,537,000 for the army air corps; $50,525,000 for the quartermaster corps and $128,165,000 for pay of the army.

Excluded from the bill was $1,000,000 asked by the budget bureau for continuation of citizens' military training camps. In a statement, Chairman Collins of the appropriations sub-committee which recommended the suspension of C. M.T.C. activities, said:

"The budget includes $1,000,000 for this component, which would occasion a reduction in the number of trainees from 37,500 to 13,-

DRASTIC RULE MAY BE INVOKED STOP LONG'S FILIBUSTER

LOUISIANA SENATOR STARTS THIRD DAY OF DELAY AGAINST GLASS BILL

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—(AP)—Talk of invoking the drastic cloture rule limiting debate was heard in the senate today as Senator Long (D. La.), entered the third day of his filibuster against the Glass banking reform bill, but indications were there was not enough support to apply the rule.

Senator Glass (D., Va.), author of the bill, already had served notice he would force a vote on the controversial branch banking provisions by holding a night session in an effort to wear down the opposition.

The cloture discussion had not reached the state where a petition is circulated for the required 16 signatures in order to present such a motion. After such a petition, a two-thirds vote of the senate is required to invoke debate limitation.

As he continued his filibuster against the bill Long turned his fire on Eugene Meyer, governor of the federal reserve board.

Daring Work Of Two Men Saved Many Children

CLEVELAND, Jan. 12.—(AP)—A daring battle of two men against a large dog, maddened with rabies was credited today with having saved several children, playing nearby, from attacks by the animal.

The men succeeded in trapping the dog in the cab of an auto truck, where he was held until a dog warden arrived.

The animal was in a violent stage of the disease, H. K. Ferry, another warden, said. "When they're like that they always jump for the throat. He might have killed any number of children," Ferry added.

The dog first attacked Charles Masek yesterday. Holding the animal at bay with a club, Masek shouted for help and was answered by Ernest Card, who was driving past in a truck.

Card attracted the dog's attention and when it rushed at him, jumped into the cab and out again on the other side, slamming the door behind him. Masek, who had followed the dog, shut the door on the other side.

FEDERAL CHECK EMERGENCY RELIEF WORK RECEIVED BY CHAIRMAN LOCAL COMMITTEE

A check for $20,000 was received Thursday morning by W. P. McCammon, chairman of the Corsicana Unemployed Relief Committee, representing the Navarro County allotment of aid received from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation through the East Texas Chamber of Commerce.

Representing the awards for January and February, the funds will enable the relief work to be continued on the present scale, and will also afford some much needed relief in other towns in the county, whose applications for aid were consolidated with the county seat's petition.

The check received Thursday represented approximately 85 per cent of the amount, estimated by the committee preparing the petition, to be needed to care for the situation on a minimum scale, and since the petition was forwarded conditions locally have mounted to a larger scale, making rigid economy necessary if the funds from the federal government, augmented by the Emergency Relief Fund raised locally are sufficient to give even the minimum relief.

Meeting Friday.

A meeting of the committee in charge of the relief work will be held at the Corsicana Chamber of Commerce Friday morning at 10 o'clock and at that time action will be taken on the requests of other points in the county for asistance. Officials pointed out that each of the communities making request a few weeks ago would have to be prepared to take their prorata share of the reduction.

When the petition was first filed, approximately $35,000 was asked for three months, and when the first awards were made the Corsicana and Navarro apportionment was placed at $8,000 per month. Through the intervention and personal attention to the matter given by Congressman Luther A. Johnson, the final award was placed at $10,000 per month for January and February.

Local Needs Great.

While definite figures are not available as to the portion of the award which will be used in Corsicana, reliable information points to the fact that approximately $8,500 per month will be available. With present registrations slightly below the 1200 mark, some $9,600 per month will be required to meet local needs, and officials of the relief work point to the fact that registrations are increasing at the rate of about 20 per day. This leaves some $900 per month, plus the new registrations, to be taken care of each month from the Emergency Relief Fund making it imperative that every pledge made for the local relief fund to be paid promptly on the date due.

Because of the rapidly increasing work connected with the relief efforts, the period of registration each day has been shortened committee officials reported Thursday morning. In the future registrations will be taken only between 1 and 3 o'clock each afternoon.

A conference with representatives of other towns in the county asking aid will probably be held Friday afternoon, committee officials said.

Sentenced For Robbery.

DALLAS, Jan. 12.—(AP)—A district court jury today sentenced W. L. (Bill) Herne of Corsicana to five years in the state penitentiary on a charge of attempted robbery of the Reinhardt State bank last Nov. 2.

PRISONER EXCHANGE WITH MEXICO MAY FREE MAN WHO WAS ONCE SENTENCED DEATH

EL PASO, Jan. 12.—(AP)—Outcome of a contemplated international exchange of prisoners was awaited hopefully today by Mrs. Jeff Meers, whose husband was held in a Mexican penitentiary for the killing of a Mexican waiter he mistakenly identified as the slayer of his father.

A Mexican prisoner, Jose Carraso, sentenced to life imprisonment in 1927 for alleged participation in the bank mesesnger holdup in which Meers' father, a bank guard, was slain, figures in the proposed trade. Carrasco was taken from a Texas prison farm to the El Paso county jail some six months ago by Texas Rangers pending completion of negotiations.

About two years and a half ago young Meers went to a Juarez salon and shot the waiter, Antonio Visconti, in the erroneous belief he was avenging the murder of his father. He had acted under the delusion that Visconti was Manuel Villarreal, border desperado credited with killing his father.

He learned subsequently of his tragic mistake but was convicted of murder and transferred to the Chihuahua state penitentiary at Chihuahua City. Efforts to liberate him have been carried on steadily but with little result until Roberto Fierro became governor of Chihuahua.

Governor R. S. Sterling of Texas and Governor Fierro started negotiations and Carrasco was taken to the El Paso jail. The sheriff of El Paso county was instructed to hold Carrasco for "investigation." No further orders relative to his disposal have been issued.

El Paso newspapers suppressed publicity concerning the proposed exchange for fear it would hinder arrangements.

Nothing was said of the affair recently until Attorney General James V. Allred announced is Austin yesterday that he and Judge Ballard Coldwell of El Paso had been instrumental in having Meers' death sentence commuted to seven years imprisonment. It was revealed that the commutation took place last September.

Meanwhile, Villarreal was shot to death in Chihuahua City in a gun fight with Mexican officers.

RAIL COMMISSION PROBING ALLEGED ILLEGAL OIL RUNS

FIRST GENERAL INVESTIGATION EAST TEXAS FIELD SITUATION STARTED

By WILLIAM S. WHITE,
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

TYLER, Jan. 12.—(AP)—The first witness today in the Texas Railroad Commission's investigation of violations of its proration orders in the vast East Texas oil field described a well which he said had been overproducing under cover of a "stone fort" surrounding it.

The witness, G. M. Cosby, an investigator for the commission, identified the well as the "P and G Oil Company" producer near Gladewater.

"It has a concrete house built around it and iron doors," said Cosby.

"Isn't it commonly known as a fort?" counsel asked.

"Yes, that's what it's called. There's no way to inspect it as to production except to get permission."

Cosby said that on Dec. 8 he found a line leading from the well to the V. O. E. refinery "hot."

"I told the man at the refinery I wanted to gauge the tanks," he said, "but he told me he had been ordered not to let us gauge it."

"They gave us a run ticket, however, showing 465 barrels being run that night." The witness added that wells were permitted at that time, under proration rules of the commission, to produce about 37 barrels daily.

"Do you know any other well in the field which finds it necessary to have a stone fort around it?" ased Thomas G. Pollard, counsel for the East Texas Producers' and Royalty Owners' Association.

"No," replied Cosby.

He said he had information that the well during the December shutdown of the field, ordered by the commission, produced 1,147 barrels.

"I guess I have been there fifty times trying to get free access," he said.

It was brought out in further

SEVERAL STATUTES PROPOSED THURSDAY AT HOUSE SESSION

MARRIAGE LICENSE, DRIVERS LICENSE, AND MAXIMUM FEES AMONG SUBJECTS

AUSTIN, Jan. 12.—(AP)—Bills to provide for licensing of automobile drivers, to repeal the three-day marriage statute and to set maximum fees of office were included in proposed legislation introduced in the house today.

Representative George Moffett of Chillicothe offered a bill that would set the ad valorem tax rate for state purposes at 57 cents per $100. Moffett said it was proposed to leave the Confederate pension fund tax at seven cents and the school tax at 35 cents with a reduction in the tax for general revenue purposes to 15 cents. The present constitutional maximum is 77-cents per $100 but the legislature last year placed a statutory limit of 69-cents on the levy.

Moffett also sponsored a bill increasing the tuition fees of out-of-state students at state institutions of higher learning from $30 to $90. The $30 fee for resident students would remain unchanged.

Robber Escaped With $35,000 As Companion Shot

CLEVELAND, Jan. 12.—(AP)—A robber escaped with $35,000 in cash in a holdup of the Commercial Savings and Loan Company, of Berea, a suburb, today, after a gun fight in which his companion was shot and captured.

The gun fight developed when former councilman Charles Fox, who arrived at the bank soon after the holdup, resisted efforts to force him into the bandit's machine.

Fox's suspicions were aroused when he found the door of the bank locked. He rapped. One of the gunmen came to the door, carrying a satchel containing the loot. He turned his gun on Fox and ordred him to "come along."

As they reached the curb, Fox struck one of his captors in the jaw and seized his gun. He fired five times and the bandit fell.

The second gunman snatched the satchel and fled afoot as scores of citizens ran to Fox's aid.

VARIED WEATHER IS COSTLY TO WIDELY SEPARATED STATES

MINNESOTA BLIZZARD KILLS THREE; SEVERE GALES IN CALIFORNIA

(By The Associated Press.)

Two widely separated states—Minnesota and California—today surveyed the results of death dealing weather in the form of a blizzard, sub-zero temepratures and gales.

While the north country was digging itself out of snow-blocked highways and recording at least three deaths which came with mercury readings as low as 17 degrees below zero, Southern California was counting the damage and loss of life it sustained from an 80-mile gale.

In way of contrast New York lolled in its warmest Jan. 11 in history yesterday with the thermometer at 57 degrees above zero. Chicago and the middle west had winter temperatures but no snow.

In California, reports said the wind, viciously blowing through orange groves and acres of oil well derricks, had claimed at least two lives and caused property damage approaching a million dollars.

The rescue of eight naval men adrift in motor boats averted a larger death toll. Of two drownings, one was Lieut. Comm. Carl Hupp, swept overboard from the U. S. cruiser Raleigh.

North Dakota also felt the brunt of the blizzard which resulted in two sisters freezing to death while on their way home from school near Kennedy, Minn. At Crookston,

HOUSE REFUSES TO CUT ITS SALARY AS SENATE HAD DONE

SENATE IS CHARGED WITH PLAYING POLITICS IN RETRENCHMENT EFFORT

AUSTIN, Jan. 12.—(AP)—The house of the Texas legislature today refused to concur in the senate action of yesterday which reduced the pay of members of the legislature from $10 to $8 per day.

The house members opposed to the pay cut charged the senate was "playing politics" and cited instances in the past wherein the senate allegedly declined to go down the line with the house in passage of economy measures.

The senate resolution was amended to allow the house members to draw $10 per day while leaving the pay of the senate at $8 per day.

The vote on adoption of the amendment was 111 to 34.

A plea for concurrence in the senate action was made by Representative Harry N. Graves of Georgetown and R. W. Calvert of Hillsboro.

AUSTIN, Jan. 12.—(AP)—The Forty-Third Texas Legislature today heard Governor R. S. Sterling's final message. He will leave the chief executiveship next Tuesday, in relinquishing his office to M[illegible] Miriam A. Ferguson.

Presentation of the governor's message interrupted in the house consideration of a senate resolution proposing that the per diem of legislators be fixed at $8 instead of the constitutional maximum of $10.

The house adopted a resolution to operate for the next five days under the same rules as were in force during the 42nd legislature. A stiff fight was presaged in the event the rules committee recommended rules that did not conform strictly to the constitutional amendment adopted two years ago which extended the session to 120-days and set aside the first 30-days for introuction of bills, the next 30 days for committee consideration and the final sixty days for floor action.

The rules of the 42nd legislature permitted the indiscriminate introduction and consideration of bills.

W. M. Harman of Waco was named chairman of the temporary house appropriations committee. Others on the temporary committee were Harold Kayton of San Anotnio; T. H. McGregor of Austin; J. B. Ford of McGregor, and H. R. Stovall of Waxahachie.

FAMOUS THRILL MURDERER OF DECADE AGO INSTRUCTOR IN JOLIET PRISON SCHOOL

JOLIET, Ill., Jan. 12.—(AP)—Richard Loeb, who with Nathan Leopold is serving a 99-year sentence for the "thrill" murder of Bobby Franks, may now be referred to as "professor' Loeb—registrar, director and instructor of Illinois new correspondence school for convicts in its twin penitentiaries.

The school, offering an academic course to convicts who have had grammar school educations, opened yesterday with 28 enrolled and with 64 others seeking entrance. Prisoners in both the old prison at Joliet and the newer one at Stateville, nearby, are eligible. None will be permitted to burden himself with more than three subjects at one time, and none may come in contact with the professors. The questions are typed out and submitted to them.

Loeb, one of the originators of the plan, which is being carried on without added expense to the state, is teaching English composition, History and Spanish. The other faculty members are:

Edward (Toddy) Dillon, of St. Louis, known as the "Society Bandit," jewel thief serving one to twenty years for robbery, who specializes in English literature.

Mark Oettinger, of Chicago, convicted forger, in charge of Mathematics.

Joseph Pursifull, Peoria, Ill., instructor of Latin, who is under a five-year sentence for his part in kidnaping Dr. James W. Parker of Peoria.

Prison officials said they approved of the school because it helped solve the idleness problem.

ECONOMIST CLAIMS KREUGER AND TOLL BOND ISSUE SOUND

SENATE INVESTIGATION OF STOCK MARKET MATTERS CONTINUED THURSDAY

Original Investment Sound.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—(AP)—A New York economist told the senate stock market investigators today that the Kreuger and Toll bond issue of $50,000,000 in 1929 was a "fundamentally sound investment" when it was sold to the public.

Dr. Max Winkler, associate professor of economics at the College of the City of New Yorkk and president of the American Council of Foreign Investors, said the bonds originally were secured by collateral of $60,000,000 in securities.

The committee previously was told that inferior collateral was substituted later and that the bonds were worth 14 cents on the dollar now.

Only a few members of the committee and a score of spectators were on hand as Chairman Norbeck called the economist before the banking sub-committee.

PRESIDENT URGES BANKRUPTCY LAWS CHANGES AT ONCE

EMERGENCY ACTION NEEDED TO AVOID WHOLESALE FORECLOSURES

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—(AP)—In a second special message to congress in as many days, President Hoover today made a plea for "emergency action" in revision of the bankruptcy laws in order to avoid present-day wholesale forced foreclosures.

The president asked specifically for an immediate alteration of existing law to facilitate the "relief of debtors who seek the protection of the court for the purpose of readjusting their affairs with their creditors."

Opportunity would be given debtors to arrange a settlement with a majority of their creditors, this to be binding upon the minority creditors.

Present processes of forced liquidation through foreclosure and bankruptcy sale, Mr. Hoover said, are proving "utterly destructive of the interests of debtor and creditor alike."

If allowed to continue, he said, "misery will be suffered by thousands without substantial gain to their creditors "insisting upon foreclosure in hope of collecting part of the money owed them.

"Under existing law," he said "even where majorities of the creditors desire to arrange fair and equitable readjustments with their debtors, their plans may not be consummated without prohibitive delay and expense, usually attended by the obstruction of minority creditors who oppose such settlements in the hope that the fear of ruinous liquidation will induce the immediate settlement of their claims."

The president made specific reference to railroads, saying that the corporate reorganization provision should be applicable to the carriers and that in such cases "the plan of reorganization should not become effective until it has been approved by the interstate commerce commission."

Several Bills Pending.

Several bills are pending on congress, designed to liberalize the bankruptcy laws. Senator Hastings (R., Del.) has one before the judiciary committee which would permit an individual or partnership to escape the stigma of bankruptcy by authorizing reorgan- ation, with the consent of a per- ge of stockholders.

ferences are proceeding be- judiciary subcommittees of use and senate, with the f getting a satisfactory bill message of yesterday, the t asked for either ratifica- the pending international convention or that he be authority to declare muni- s embargoes to prevent mili- ry conflicts.

Text of Message.

The text of today's message follows:

To the Senate and House of Representatives:

On February 29th last I addressed the congress on the urgent necessity for revision of the bankruptcy laws, and presented detailed proposals to that end. These proposals were based upon most searching inquiry into the whole subject which has been undertaken by the attorney general at my direction. While it is desirable that the whole matter should be dealt with, some portions of these proposals as an amelioration of the present situation are proving more urgent every day.

With view to early action, the department, committees and members of the congress, have been collaborating in further development of such parts of these proposals as have, out of the present situation, become of most pressing need. I urge that the matter be given attention in this session for effective legislation would have most helpful economic and social results in the welfare and recovery of the nation.

Course Destructive.

The process of forced liquidation through foreclosure and bankruptcy sale of the assets of individual and corporate debtors who through no fault of their own are unable in the present emergency to provide for the payment of their debts in ordinary course as they mature, is utterly destructive of the interest of debtor and creditors alike, and if this process is allowed to take its usual course misery will be suffered by thousands without substantial gain to their creditors, who insist upon liquidation and foreclosure in the vain hope of collecting their claims.

In the great majority of cases such liquidation under present conditions is so futile and destructive that voluntary readjustments through the extension or composition of individual debts and the reorganization of corporations must be desirable to a large majority of the creditors.

Delay and Expense.

Under existing law, even where majorities of the creditors desire to arrange fair and equitable readjustments with their debtors, their plans may not be consummated without prohibitive delay and expense, usually attended by the obstruction of minority creditors who oppuose such settlements in the hope that the fear of ruinous liquidation will induce the immediate settlement of their claims.

The proposals to amend the bankruptcy act by providing for the relief of debtors who seek the protection of the court for the purpose of readjusting their affairs with their creditors carry no stigma of an adjudication in bankruptcy, and are designed to extend the protection of the court to the debtor and his property, while an opportunity is afforded the debtor and a majority of his creditors to arrange an equitable settlement of his affairs, which upon approval of the court will become binding upon minority creditors.

Under such process it should be possible to avoid destructive liquidation through the composition and extension of individual indebtedness and the reorganization of corporations, with the full protectio of the court extended to the rights and interests of creditors and debtors alike. The law should encourage and facilitate such readjustments in proceedings which do not consume the estate in long and wasteful receiverships.

Creditors Should Be Stayed.

In the case of individual and corporate debtors all creditors should be stayed from the enforcement of their debts pending the judicial process of readjustment. The provisions dealing with corporate reorganizations should be applicable to railroads, and in such cases the plan of reorganization should not become effective until it has been approved by the interstate commerce commission.

I wish again to emphasize that the passage of legislation for this relief of individual and corporate debtors at this season of congress is a matter of the most vital importance. It has a major bearing upon the whole economic situation in the adjustment of the relation of debtors and creditors. I therefore recommend its immediate consideration as an emergency action.

HOMESICK FOR BLUE GALILEE, TRAVELER RECALLS MEMORIES*

Father Toepper's Hospice, On Site of the Ministry of Jesus—A Sensational Preacher—Famous Mother-In-Law Story—Crowds and Solitude.

BY WILLIAM T. ELLIS

Canadian lakes, Italian lakes, the English, Scotch and Irish lakes; lovely Lake Tahoe, in California all have their devotees; but the Lake of lakes, the most beloved body of water in the world is the Lake of Galilee, scene of so important a part of the life and ministry of Jesus. Hill-girt, and fruitful of fish, this little lake thirteen miles long by eight miles wide, is more famous than many seas; and oftener celebrated in song and picture.

Most travellers in Palestine visit the Lake, usually by a short sojourn at Tiberias. Lovers of the Lake, and lingerers by its shores, prefer to dwell at the northern end, in the famous hospice of genial Father Toepper, the Lazarist monk, whose friends call him "King of Galilee." What times we have had together, on the water, in the water, afoot over the hills, among the Arabs or journeying by car east of the Jordan and up to Banias, or sitting in his garden on the edge of the Lake by moonlight. No scholar, in the teachnical sense, but learned in the lore of the Land, and with a shrewd brain behind his twinkling German eyes which sees farther into the problems of Biblical locations than does the erudition of most archaeligists, Father Toepper is to me one of the joys of the Holy Land. It fairly makes me homestick for Galilee even to write about him.

Where Father Toepper dwells, thereabouts Jesus dwelt and labored The ruins of Capernaum, as the diggings or recent months seem to have disclosed, are nearer to Father Toepper's hospice at Tabgha than to the traditional site of Tell Hum. It was this upper end of the Lake that witnessde most of the works of Jesus. Here were situated Capernaum, which was the Master's home during His ministry, Bethesda and Chorazin. Here ran—and still runs—the road to Damascus. That sloping hill, looking out on the Lake, and just west of the River Jordan, was probably the Mount of Beatitudes, and the scene of the Feeding of the Five Thousand. Every square mile of the region bears the footprints of Jesus.

A New Preacher In Town.

After His formal call of the Four, Jesus repaired with them to the home town of all of them, where on the Sabbath, they went to the synagogue A consistent church-goer was the Master. As a distinguished stranger and religious teacher, He was expected to preach- or, rather, to teach, for teaching is the real function of the man who addresses an assembly of people met for worship.

That was a sensational sermon, both for what it contained, and for the dramatic incident that followed. This new rabbi was no droner of old texts, no re-thresher of grainless straw. Instead of clever quotations, after the approved manner of the scribes He struck out a new, original note, as if He Himself were sufficient authority. Instead of repetitions "It has been said," His keynote was "I say unto you." A fresh Voice had entered the world. Small wonder that Mark records that "the people listened with amazement to His teaching."

In the Life of Phillip Brooks one gets somewhat this same impression, of a preacher become the outstanding figure in a city, because he was a living voice, pouring forth the wisdom of life and of God, heedless of conventions and traditions; and speakin ever to the hungry hearts of hearers. Some persons cherish the hope that our real deliverance from the Depression will come when the pulpit again finds its voice; and men of God stand up to proclaim with aouthority the vital truth for these times. For it was Jesus the preacher who laid hold upon the hearts of His land and time.

An Interrupted Sermon.

While the people were spell-bound under the compelling words of this new Authority, a spectacular interruption occurred One of the hearers, a demoniac, a man under the power of a foul spirit, screamed out: "What have you to do with Jesus the Nazarene? Have you come to destroy us? I know who your are—God's Holy One.

"Silence! Come out of him."

In the agony of deliverance from the foul spirit, the man was thrown into convulsions. The congregation were amazed and awestricken. Hubbub indescribable ensued Here, as never seen before, was One who not only spoke with authority, but also acted with authority. Capernaum was too small to hold this tale, which quickly swept the countryside.

As we pass on, with the narrator, we pause to comment that there are still foul spirits to be exorcised from our modern life by the power of Christ—corrupt imaginations, lewd literature, obscene stories and allusions, vile plays and motion pictures, and the whole mess of rottenness that befouls our civilization. Certainly no discile of Jesus can entertain this dirty demon.

A Mother-in-Law Story.

So far as I recall there are only two mother-in-law stories in the Bible, and both are beautiful. One is the romatic record of Naomi and Ruth; the other is the Lesson incident of Peter's wife's mother, a beloved member of the apostle's family, whose illness they told to their new Master. Jesus went into the room, and taking the woman by the hand, raised her, and the fever departed; so that she was at once fit to resume her normal tasks of household service.

Life is ever thus entangled. Peter's whole family was involuntarily tied up with Jesus. There was undreamed succor for his mother-in-law when he became a disciple. Any life that comes into relationship with Jesus creates a relationship with him for all its kindred. And what boons the blessing of Christ has brought to countless homes!

The Needy At the Door.

One of the most unforgettable pictures in the life of our Lord is next portrayed by Luke I quote the Weymouth Version:—"When it was evening, after sunset the people came bringing Him all who were sick and the demoniacs; and the whole town was assembled at the door."

This passage came to my mind when, last Summer, I motored from our cottage by a lake to the home of Dr. Locke, of Williamsburg, Ontario, whose healings have become famed all over the land. The sight that met my eyes recalled Galilee; for many hundreds of persons, from far and near, were thronged about this country doctor's frame dwelling. Rich and poor, old and young, men and women, were gathered as an expectant host, seeking healing. Few showed outward signs of their need; ah, the unsuspected suffering suffering that surrounds us all; Once it became noised abroad that Jesus was a healer, the whole city poured forth. And He healed them; for the Teacher and Savious is also the Great Physician.

Escaping Popularity.

Wise is the man who has no illusions about popularity; and who is brave enough to escape from thronging labors. Even the most casual study of the career of Christ shows that He had a passion for apartness, a need for solitude and for spiritual replenishing. After His hectic night of healing probably in front of Peter's home, Jesus rose early, while it was still dark, and left the house, seeking a solitary place of prayer.

This phase to the greatest Life leads us directly to one of the basic laws of spiritual peace and power. If we would retain the equilibrium of our own souls, and our ability to help other people, we simply must have periods away from crowds and affairs, that in silence and separateness our spirits may grow. Our day stresses activity; but it is most of it such tragically futile activity. Professional Christian workers spend much of their time in conferences and conventions, frim which nothing seems to eventuate Alone, open-souled to God, the springs of power are tapped. As Carlyle thundered, let us be, "A little more silent, please!" Then we shall be prepared to return effectively, as did Jesus, to the seeking multitudes.

ECONOMY CONTINUED UPPERMOST THOUGHT IN SENATE TODAY

DAILY PAY OF SENATORS CUT TO EIGHT DOLLARS; PLAN OTHER ECONOMIES

AUSTIN, Jan. 11.—(AP)—The Texas senate today voted 17 to 14, to reduce the pay of members of the legislature from the constitutional maximum of $10 to $8 a day.

The pay cut must be approved by the house before it is effective for this session.

In voting for the salary reduction, the senate continued the retrenchment policy which it started yesterday. Senators decided in caucus yesterday to reduce the salaries of employes an average of 15 per cent and to decrease their number almost one-third. The caucus report had not been prepared but it was expected to be accepted.

Senator Thomas J. Holbrook of Galveston, chairman of the new senate finance committee, told his colleagues that they would be "traitors" to their state unless they voted to reduce their salaries. He asserted that "citizens everywhere," newspapers and all political parties were demanding retrenchment in government expenditures.

A movement to retain the $10 pay was defeated by the most narrow margin possible, a tie vote, 15 to 15. After the action the vote on the $8 pay resolution carried 17 to 14.

Economy continued to be the thought uppermost in the monds of the legislators as they swung into the second day of their biennial session.

Lieut. Gov. Edgar Witt of Waco, ill in Washington, in a letter to Senator Holbrook advocated a 25 per cent reducton in state expenditures.

Pointing to the "large deficit facing the state treasury," Witt said there "is no other 'out,' * * * but to reduce appropriations."

Mrs. Louise Snow Phinney of Dallas was re-elected chief clerk of the house.

Joe W. White of San Antonio was elected sergeant-at-arms over two opponents, former Representative J. J. Olsen of Yoakum and Arthur Higgins of Fannin county.

A. C. Dunn of Marlin, veteran reading clerk, was re-elected by acclamation and without opposition.

W. H. Wiggs of Paris, member of the house in the last legislature, was elected assistant reading clerk in a close contest.

AUSTIN, Jan. 11.—(AP)—The third court of civil apepals today reversed and ordered dissolved injunctions that had been given several operators of trucks and buses restraining the Texas railroad commission from refusing to issue them permits to operate.

The cases were those of George C. Shupee, T. M. Winkle, Intercity Forwarding Company, R. M. Rodgers, Jacob T. Bradberry and the George A. Scott Truck Line.

DEATH SENTENCE AGAINST AMERICAN CHANGED BY MEXICO

AUSTIN, Jan. 11.—(AP)—James V. Allred, Texas attorney general, said today that he and Ballard Caldwell, district judge at El Paso, had succeeded in having the Mexican government commute a death sentence against W. J. Meers, an American, to seven years imprisonment.

Governor R. S. Sterling and others also had worked on the case. Meers was held for a firing squad after he shot a man in Juarez he believed to be the slayer of his father. Later it developed he had mistaken the man's identity. He was held in prison at Chihuahua City, Chihuahua, for several years, while Americans tried to intercede.

Governor Sterling had considerable correspondence with the governor of Chihuahua with reference to the case and at one time had about consummated a trade for Meers' delivery to the American side when the plan suddenly went awry.

The Mexican governor wanted a man held in the Texas prison—a one-legged Mexican — Governor Sterling said, and promised to trade Meers for the Texas convict. The Texas governor agreed to have his man at the international boundary on a certain day, and to get him there at the appointed hour rangers traveled continuously day and night in an automobile from a prison farm on the Brazos river to the Rio Grande at El Paso. There was a hitch, however, and Meers was not delivered.

OFFICERS CONTINUE PROBE OF TWO MEN ARRESTED RECENTLY

County officers are continuing their investigations of two men arrested several nights ago near Angus following the alleged attempt to hi-jack B. C. Caldwell, local automobile concern official, but no formal complaints had been filed Wednesday morning.

Two women arrested with the man have been released from custody.

A quantity of bolt cutters, saws, an automatic shotgun, and other articles were found in the large touring car following the arrest of the quartet by a state highway patrolman.

It was alleged a flour sack filled with straw was dropped by one of the men as the Caldwell car approached in an effort to get the motorist to stop.

The shotgun was fired into the air as the car stopped later after officers accompanied Caldwell to the scene of the attempted hold-up. Officers are seeking to have some of the articles found in the car identified.

JUNCTION MAN IS SELECTED ON FIRST BALLOT IN HOUSE

ENTIRE MEMBERSHIP VOTE; JOHNSON OF CARRIZO SPRINGS OPPONENT

AUSTIN, Jan. 10.—(AP)—Coke Stevenson of Junction was elected speaker of the Texas house of representatives of the 43rd legislature today. He defeated A. P. Johnson of Carrizo Springs.

The official vote was announced as: Stevenson 82, Johnson 68.

Every one of the 150 members of the house voted.

Election of the speaker was the high spot in the convening of the 43rd regular session of the legislature for four months work.

In the senate, Senator Walter Woodul of Houston, friend of Governor R. S. Sterling, who a week from today will relinquish the reins of government to Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson, was elected president pro tem. He will preside there during the absence of Liut. Gov. Edgar Witt of Waco, ill in a Washington hospital.

Mrs. Ferguson and her former governor husband, James E. Ferguson, were known to have favored the election of Stevenson to the speakership.

Johnson was a close friend of Governor Sterling who was defeated in the democratic primary by Mrs. Ferguson in a close campaign. Johnson was one of the administration men during Sterling's term but had promised Mrs. Ferguson his cooperation if elected speaker.

Stevenson, a native Texan, served in the 41st and 42nd legislatures. In the 42nd legislature he was chairman of the committee on live stock and stock raising. He also served on the committee on criminal jurisprudence and the committee on public lands and taxation and state affairs. He is a lawyer and 43 years old.

Johnson is beginning his fourth term as a member of the house. In the 42nd legislature he was chairman of the judiciary committee and a member of the committee on congressional districts and live stock and stock raising.

He is a Louisianan by birth and a lawyer by profession. He is 47 years old.

MRS. MITCHELL NOT DISTRIBUTOR CLOTH THROUGH RED CROSS

Mrs. R. E. Mitchell has requested the Daily Sun to correct the idea she has charge of the garment cloth and garment distribution for Navarro county.

As executive secretary of the local Red Cross Mrs. Mitchell, with the co-operation of the various Red Cross committees over the county, the United Charity Association, the Salvation Army and the Colored Community Center of Corsicana made a survey as to the need and the application was made accordingly, but a central committee, known as Navarro County Clothing Committee of which Mrs. Earl Ellis is chairman, is managing the distribution.

Mrs. Mitchell is co-operating with the committee, and assisting with the checking out of the allotments to the various communities, but the deciding of the individual cases eligible to be served must be the responsibility of a committee. No individual connected with the Red Cross should be expected to assume that responsibility.

Only persons in dire need are to receive the government cloth and flour, Mrs. Mitchell points out, and personal knowledge of cases and strict investigation of applicants must be required of the committee in charge.

Owing to the heavy responsibilities upon her at this time, Mrs. Mitchell is asking the people not to come to her home office before 9 a. m., at the noon hour or after 5 p. m.

TINY SON BORN TO LIBBY HOLMAN REYNOLDS TUESDAY; BEING KEPT IN INCUBATOR

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 11.—(AP)—Libby Holman Reynolds' new baby boy, Dr. Norris W. Vaux said today, weighed three and one-half pounds at birth and is being kept in an incubator.

Both mother and child, said Dr. Vaux, obstetrician who attended Mrs. Reynolds, are doing "very well."

The child, heir to a large share of his father's tobaco fortune, was born at 6:48 o'clock last night in the Pennsylvania hospital. Previous announcements from the actress' home had said the baby was expected early in February.

Arrival of the much-discussed infant recalled the death of his father, Smith Reynolds, 20-year-old heir to one-fourth of the R. J. Reynolds tobacco fortune. He was found fatally shot at Reynolda, his family's palatial home at Winston-Salem, N. C., last July 6, after a gay birthday party.

A coroner's jury found that he came to his death at the hands of "a person or persons unknown," and his 26-year-old widow and Albert Walker, 19-year-old Winston-Salem resident, were indicted early in August on charges of murder.

Last November, however, the prosecution was dropped when Solicitor Carlisle Higgins announced there was insufficient evidence to warrant a trial.

Mrs. Reynolds, daughter of a Cincinnati attorney, entered the hospital yesterday after an automobile trip from the home of Albert E. Ives, an architect, near Wilmington, Del., which she rented for the season.

She was accompanied by Mrs. Louisa D'A. Jenney of Wilmington, wife of an official of one of the Du Pont concerns, and a girlhood friend of the singer.

Speculation was rife as to the former Broadway favarite's future plans. She was reported to have conferred with New York producers after she was freed of the murder charge and her attorney in Winston-Salem said that at this time she expected to return to the stage after her baby was born.

Smith Reynolds married Libby Holman in November, 1931, six days after his divorce from his first wife, Anne Cannon Reynolds. To a daughter born of that marriage and to the first Mrs. Reynolds, he made bequests of $50,000 each in addition to settlements of $1,000,000 apiece.

OIL PROBE

examination that the attorney general's department had been in court a dozen times seeking injunctions and the like in connection with the well's operation.

At that juncture, E. O. Thompson, member of the commission, interjected to say to James V. Allred, attorney general that "the people of East Texas and all Texas should rejoice at the activity of the attorney general."

During preliminary discussions, C. V. Terrell, chairman of the commission, said the body "must" finish the hearing by Saturday and wanted questioning of witnesses restricted as much as possible to the lawyers actively interested.

Among organizations represented at the hearing were the Texas Oil and Gas Conservation Association; the Independent Petroleum Association of Texas; the East Texas Oil Land Owners' Association and the East Texas Producers and Royalty Owners Association.

Nearly all of the major companies and many of the small ones had representatives present.

(Associated Press Staff Writer.)

TYLER, Jan. 12.—(AP)—The Texas railroad commission today began the preliminaries of the first general investigation conducted into long recurring reports of illegal production of oil in the East Texas oil field.

Specifically, the commission sought to determine from whence oil reputedly produced in violation of its proration orders had been coming, and what pipelines, if any, had been carrying it illegally.

The decision to hold the hearing was made in December during a general proration hearing at Austin. At that time broad charges of irregularities, and violations of proration rules were made.

The hearings did not get under way until nearly 11 a. m. Originally it had been scheduled for Fair Park auditorium but when the great crowd on hand went to the auditorium, some two miles from town, it was announced that the sessions would be started in the county courthouse and would be moved later if it was found that the room there was insufficient.

There was something of the air of a fair day about, incidentally, the citizens having planned a barbecue and speaking for tonight.

The field's greatest allowable under the commission's order, is 290,000 barrels daily. One of the purposes of this hearing was to sift charges that materially greater production actually exists because of proration violations.

Suits Are Filed.

AUSTIN, Jan. 12.—(AP)—The railroad commission today filed injunction and damage suits against the Taylor Refining company of Williamson county and J. A. Johnson of Gregg county, operators in the East Texas oil field.

The petitions alleged that the defendants had violated the September 29 order of the commission requiring the filing of individual tank car reports in the East Texas field. District Judge C. A. Wheeler was asked to enjoin the defendants from further violations and to grant judgment for $1,000 daily damages. The Taylor Ref'ning company operates a loading rack at Tyler, the petition said.

Judge Wheeler set January 21 as the date for hearing the petitions.

Powell Girl Most Representative In Baylor University

WACO, Jan. 12.—(Spl.)—Miss Floy Banks of Powell, a graduate of the Corsicana high school, has been voted the most representative young woman in Baylor university this year. The selection was made by a group representing the deans of the university and two of the faculty members, along with the president and secretary of all four university classes for the three terms.

Scholarship, achievement and loyalty were considered by the committee in making their choice. It is specified that the young woman thus chosen should be a member of the senior class.

Miss Banks was a beauty candidate in 1932, is a member of the Baylor Little Theatre, the 1933 Round-Up staff, the Press Club, the Fidelis Sunday school class cabinet, and is president of the Young Women's Auxiliary, a religious organization.

Miss Bank's name will be engraved on a silver loving cup that is placed permanently in the Memorial dormitory.

LOCAL MERCHANTS PROTEST PROPOSED STATE SALES TAX

Directors of the Corsicana Retail Merchants association Wednesday morning authorized letters of protest to be forwarded to Joe Kelton Wells and Robert W. Calvert, representatives; Julian Greer, senator; and Governor-elect Miriam A. Ferguson, against the proposed state retail sales tax before the Texas law-makers, stating that the proposed sales tax would be burdensome to consumers and retail merchants, and urging efforts be made to prevent the passage of the proposed legislation.

The letters will be forwarded to the four-named officials at once and will be signed by Sydney Marks, president of the local retail merchants association.

CHARLES W. MORSE, SHIPPING MAGNATE AND FINANCIER, DIES

WAS ONE OF LAST OF FAMOUS PLUNGERS IN WALL STREET DISTRICT

BATH, Me., Jan. 12.—(AP)—Charles W. Morse, 77, financier and shipping magnate, died at his home here at 8 o'clock this morning. He had been ill from peneumonia for a week, but fas believed to have been recovering.

Two of his sons, Benjamin W. Morse of New York City and Harry F. Morse of New London, Conn., who had been at their father's bedside, returned to their homes last night in the belief he had passed the crisis in his illness.

A third son, Erwin A. Morse of Hollywood, Calif., and a daughter, Mrs. Anna Geiger, wife of Dr. John C. Geiger of San Francisco, Calif., also survive.

Two decades ago Charles Wyman Morse figured prominently and frequently in the news of that time as ice king, bank financier, stock manipulator and dictator in coastwise and river shipping as well as several times in litigation in which he became involved through his operations.

Was of Plunger Type

Wall Street remembers Mr. Morse as one of the last of the plunger type, peculiar to itself, which it produced in the exciting days when it was thinking in hundreds of millions. Rising from the position as bookkeeper for his father, he soared across the financia lsky like a meteor, often leaving a searing path, and dropped into apparent oblivion behind the walls of the federal penitentiary at Atlanta in 1908.

Mr. Morse had been convicted of misapplication of the funds of one of his banks and was sentenced to serve 15 years. He made a determined but futile fight to escape serving the sentence and had been in prison two years when he was pardoned by Presidest Taft on the ground that the prisoner's health was such that he had only a short time to live. He made a remarkable "come-back" is which he recouped considerable of his fortune, but fell far short of his former power and prestige.

Held Vast Fortune

In his heyday, just before his crash in 1907, Mr. Morse was credited with a $22,000,000 fortune, and control over a corporate capitalization of almost $340,000,000 more. In a year he was broke and under criminal conviction. While attempting to fight off serving his sentence for two years he managed to win back a reported $7,500,000 in the market. When the doors at Atlanta closed upon him he was said to have paid all his debts, and to have a half-million cash clear.

After his release, Mr. Morse figured in a $25,000,000 steamship merger, and in government war contracts to build 36 ocean vessels, 22 of which were completed, but these feats scarcely matched the former achievements of "the man who was." In connection with the ship contracts Morse and his three sons and eight others were indicted by the grand jury of the District of Columbia is 1922, charged with conspiracy to defraud the United States and the United States Shipping Board Emergency Fleet corporation. They were acquitted after trial is August, 1923.

Mr. Morse was born at Bath, Me., in 1856 and, was a graduate of Bowdoin college, class of 1877. He was married twice. Hattie Bishop Hussey, whom he married in 1884, died in 1897, leaving three sons, Harry, Erwin and Benjamin, and one daughter. In 1901 he aroused his relatives in Boston by marrying Mrs. Clemence Cowles Dodge, divorced wife of a Pullman car conductor, and they went to court to force an annulment. In the subsequent legal fight, Mr. Morse's opponents blundered into perjury, and "Abe" Hummela, a theatrical lawyer retained as counsel to block his second romance, was sent to Blackwell's Island for one year.

FIVE COUNTIES ARE REPRESENTED MEET WITH 200 PLAYERS

NAVARRO, LIMESTONE, HENDERSON, FREESTONE AND LEON COUNTIES ENTERED

Twenty class B basketball teams from Navarro, Henderson, Limestone, Freestone and Leon counties will begin the elimination process Friday morning at 10 o'clock in the second annual Mildred high school invitation cage tournament and the championship contest is scheduled for Saturday night.

The Navarro Broncos are one of the pre-tournament ranking favorites to cop the honors in this play, although there are a number of fine clubs entered. Navarro won the Y. M. C. A. invitation tournament in 1932 and second place in 1931. Navarro annexed the Navarro county Interscholastic league tournament in 1932.

Emmett won the Y. M. C. A. tournament in 1931 and has been entered in this tournament.

Mildred won second place in the Mildred tournament last year and second place in the Interscholastic tournament in 1932. Mildred took third place in the Y. M. C. A. 1931 tourney.

Malakoff Is Strong.

Another quint given serious consideration for honors is the Malakoff high school, 1932 Interscholastic league winner in Henderson county. Fairfield, 1932 Interscholastic league champions of Freestone county, is also an entrant. The above-mentioned clubs have practically the same players back this year.

It is expected there will be approximately 200 boys to participate in the play.

Officials for the meet are Harold Green (Corsicana), Jake Hanna (Centenary), Paul Dresser (Texas A. and M.). The scorer will be Thomas and Land will be timer.

LEGISLATURE

Dallas introduced a bill to provide for forfeiture of public school lands for non-payment of principal installments and set a time limit of one year within which the payments could be made. Lands are subject to forfeiture now only for failure to pay interest. Mrs. Hughes also introduced a bill to provide that no school land lease would be effective until the lease had been filed with the land office.

Could Revoke License

The drivers' license bill was sponsored by Representative Rolland Bradley of Houston. It contained most of the provisions advocated by national safety councils, including a provision that would make it mandatory on a judge to revoke a drivers' license for one year for drunken driving or other serious offense of like nature.

A bureau to pass on the legality and constitutionality of bills introduced in the legislature, before they were finally passed, was proposed in a bill by Representative H. L. McKee of Port Arthur and Frank Wood of Nocona.

A bill that would require the county commissioners court to determine the number of deputies and the salaries in offices operating under the fee system was sponsored by Mrs. Hughes. It would make the county judge the chief budget officers.

Attack Marriage Statute

Representative Lon A. Alsup of Carthage introduced the three-day marriage statute repeal bill. The law now requires that three days notice of the intention to marry be given. The bill would abolish this and also would abolish the physical eramination for males that now is a prerequisite to obtaining a marriage license.

Representative Emmett Morse introduced a bill to reapportion the distribution of motor vehicle license fees. Under the bill, the county would retain the first $50,000 fees and split the remainder of the fees on the basis of one-half with the state.

Morse stated the bill would result in Harris county retaining approximately $450,000 more in motor vehicle registration fees than it now retains.

Morse offered a bill to provide for legislative redistricting of the state.

Legalization of miniature pool tables also was proposed in a bill by Morse.

The most important of six bills introduced in the senate was one which would abolish the state reclamation department, effecting a saving of approximately $40,000 a year. The bill was offered by Senator Cecil Murphy of Gainesville.

Senator Thomas Holbrook of Galveston introduced bills designed to permit newspaper companies to publish a paper and to operate a radio broadcasting station under a single charter.

Senator Archie Parr of Benavides offered a bill to increase the borrowing powers of certain water improvement districts.

A bill by Senator Ben G. Oneal of Wichita Falls would remove the requirement forcing water improvement districts to post a supersedeas bond when court judgments are appealed.

AUSTIN, Jan. 12.—(AP)—Failure to pay for tombstones would make the stones subject to removal from a cemetery under a bill introduced in the house of the Texas legislature today by Representatives Gordon Burns of Huntsville and A. K. Daniels of Crockett.

Card of Thanks.

Through courtesy of the Light, we are thanking the good mothers and fathers for braving sleet and rain to assist us in combating that dreaded disease that so frequently visits our family. Also those that so willingly offered us their assistance if need be; together with Dr. Worsham's friendship and reasonable service. We could see a token of kindness, a ray of hope and a nature's warming in the different kinds of soup contributed to Inez's care; the Christmas gifts, the hand full of letters from her schoolmates and teacher, Miss Virgie Smotherman. Their contents will linger in our memories.

SPORT NOTES

By PAUL MOORE — Sun Sports Editor

Texas A. and M. College athletic officials are making reductions in the staff there and will have the business affairs of the department operated without a business manager. This announcement came from Dean Kyle, and is said to be in line with the economic retrenchment policy in the department. Klepto Holmes, line coach for the Varsity football team, and freshman basketball coach, and Joel Hunt, backfield coach for the varsity eleven, are being fired, effective Sept. 1. Both are former star football players on Texas Aggie elevens. The athletic department has been operated without a regular business manager since D. W. Carleton resigned last summer.

Holmes has made no comment about his future plans, but Hunt, a professional baseball player, plans to try to secure a permanent coaching position elsewhere.

From the above announcement, it appears that Coach Matty Bell of the Aggies will have the coaching of the 1933 Aggie eleven practically to himself, with little or no outside aid.

The basketball and track coaches will probably be required to become assistant football mentors under the new arrangements announced at Aggieland.

The Texas Christian University Horned Frog cagers will meet the New York Celtics in an intersectional charity game at T. C. U. Fieldhouse Saturday, Jan. 21. The Celtics are perhaps the best basketball club in New York and won the national professional basketball championship last year. The Celtics are rated as likely repeaters in the national pro cage competition this season.

The Celtic-Horned Frog game will not effect the amateur standing of the Christian players.

Looks like the Mildred invitation tournament will be one of the best ever staged in Navarro county Friday and Saturday with twenty clubs from five counties participating, including Navarro, Navarro conuty; Malakoff, Henderson county; and Fairfield, Freestone county, 1932 Interscholastic league county champions. A number of other strong cage combinations are also entered.

Carey Selph, formerly star second-sacker with the Houston Buffs, Wednesday was named as the 1933 skipper for the Houstonians. He was second baseman for the 1928 and 1931 Texas league champion Buffs. Selph was extremely popular with Houston fandom.

Bills will likely be introduced at the present legislature looking toward the legalization of boxing and horse race betting. Adherents of these two measures feel that these bills have a better chance of passage in the present legislature than in the past decade. Boxing should be legalized—it's a farce to allow wrestling and prohibit boxing. A framed wrestling match is practically impossible to detect by the average fan, but when a boxing match is not on the square, it is fairly easily to determine.

Texas Longhorns and Arkansas Porkers will meet in an important early-season series in Austin Friday and Saturday nights. Both are doped to be leaders in the Southwest cage race this year. These will be the first conference games for the Porkers. The Longhorns have a decisive victory over the Baylor Bears, 1932 champions, to their credit. Baylor meets Rice and S. M. U. and A. and M. clash in the other week-end conference games.

SLOW PROGRESS IS MADE THURSDAY ON FARM RELIEF BILL

By WILLIAM L. BEALE.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—(AP)—Slow plodding through the complex provisions of the emergency farm plan occupied the house today as Democratic leaders have sought to hasten the bill to a final vote.

It took well over an hour from the opening gavel to adopt the first committee amendment, which establishes an initial marketing period for the benefitted crops—wheat, cotton, rice, hogs, dairy products, and peanuts—and fixes during the period the following minimum prices which the bill seeks to guarantee the farmer.

75 cents a bushel on wheat and rice.

9 cents a pound on cotton.

5 cents a pound on hogs.

3 cents a pound on peanuts.

26 cents a pound on butterfat.

This initial marketing period would precede the 1933-34 marketing year, to be defined by the secretary of agriculture.

The bill would not become effective on tobacco until after the beginning of the 1933-34 year.

Despite prediction of an overwhelming majority in favor of the bill on final passage, foes of the measure were planning to attack its tariff provisions. Representative Snow (R., Me.) will offer an amendment to strike out the proposed 5 cents a pound duty on jute.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—(AP)—Speaker Garner today said that if the house judiciary committee reported the McKeown-LaGuardia bankruptcy law revision bill at its meeting tomorrow the measure would be given early house consideration.

NOW! EASE A SORE THROAT INSTANTLY.

Feel Rawness, Irritation, Go At Once

These Pictures Tell You What To Do

1 Crush and Dissolve 3 Bayer Aspirin Tablets in Half a Glass of Water.

2 GARGLE Thoroughly—Throw Your Head Way Back, Allowing a Little to Trickle Down Your Throat.

3 Repeat Gargle and Do Not Rinse Mouth, Allow Gargle to Remain on Membranes of the Throat for Prolonged Effect.

Remember Only Medicine Helps A Sore Throat

Modern medical science now throws an entirely new light on sore throat. A way that eases the pain, rawness and irritation in as little as two or three minutes.

Results are among the most extraordinary in medical science. On doctors' advice, millions are following this way . . . discarding old-time "washes" and "antiseptics." For it has been found that only medicine can help a sore throat.

Simple To Do. All you do is crush and dissolve three BAYER Aspirin Tablets in half a glass of water. Gargle with it twice—as pictured above. If you have any indication of a cold—before gargling take 2 Bayer Aspirin Tablets with a full glass of water. This is to combat any signs of cold that have gone into your system. Keep on taking if cold has a "hold." For Genuine Bayer Aspirin will not harm you. Your doctor will tell you, it does not depress the heart. Get a box of 12 or a bottle of 100 at any drug store.

Reduces Infection, Eases Pain Instantly. Gargling with Bayer Aspirin will do three things: Relieve soreness at once. Allay inflammation. AND—reduce infection; which is the important thing in fighting a sore throat.

It requires medicine—like BAYER ASPIRIN—to do these things! That is why throat specialists throughout America are prescribing this BAYER gargle in place of old-time ways. Results are quick and amazing.

Be careful, however, that you get real BAYER Aspirin Tablets for this purpose. For they dissolve completely enough to gargle without leaving irritating particles. Watch this when you buy.

NO TABLETS ARE GENUINE BAYER ASPIRIN WITHOUT THIS CROSS

RETRENCHMENT IDEA WELL UNDER WAY IN TEXAS UPPER HOUSE

MATTER OF SALARY REDUCTION PUT UP TO HOUSE TO CONSIDER THURSDAY

AUSTIN, Jan 12.—(AP)—The question of whether members of the Texas legislature, desirous of economizing in state government, are willing to reduce their own pay 20 per cent was before the house for consideration today By a vote of 17 to 14, the senate yesterday agreed to the reduction.

The senate resolution to fix the pay of the lawmakers at $8 daily was introduced by Senators Tom DeBerry of Bogata and W. R. Poage of Waco. Senator Will Martin of Hillsboro offered an amendment to retain the old figure of $10 but his amendment lost on a tie vote, 15 to 15.

The salary reduction action was only one of several evidences of retrenchment given by the senate. The senators voted to reduce the salaries of their employes an average of approximately 15 per cent and to decrease the number of workers almost one-third.

Senator Martin took the position that a distinction should be made between the legislature, which is in regular session only four months each two years, and state employes whose jobs are permanent. He asserted that members of the legislature had to leave their regular business and many of them had to come to Austin at considerable financial sacrifice.

Committees Function.

The senate standing committees already have started functioning. The senate received the committee lists by mail from Lieut. Gov. E. A. Witt, who is in a hospital at Washington Senator W. K. Hopkins of Gonzales was named chairman of the powerful state affairs committee. Senator Martin will lead the committee which will consider governor's appointments.

The house completed its organization late yesterday except for the naming of the committees by Speaker Coke Stevenson of Junction. Stevenson was hard at work on his committee assignments.

The house spent considerable time arguing whether the positions of chaplin and assistant reading clerk should be combined as an economy move. Representative W. H. Wiggs of Paris, a minister, already has been elected assistant reading clerk.

Message Ready.

Governor Sterling's final message to the legislature had been prepared and was expected to be read to the lawmakers today.

The senate faced the probability of being plunged into a controversy over last minute appointments of Governor Sterling. The governor yesterday reappointed R. L. Batts of Austin, Edward M. Crane of Dallas, and Robert L. Holliday of El Paso to the University of Texas board of regents. Batts later requested the governor to withdraw his name and Governor Sterling agreed.

Governor Sterling also reappointed Ben F. Tisinger of Garland, C. H. Chenosky of Houston and Tom Garrard of Lubbock to the board of education. The fate of those appointments likewise was regarded as uncertain.

At the start of the third day of the 120-day session, nine bills already had been introduced in the senate. Bills to appropriate $200,000 for mileage and per diem for the legislators and $50,000 for con- ingent expenses had been passed.

Card of Thanks.

We take this method of extend- g our heartfelt thanks to our any friends for their thoughtful- ss and kindness in the illness d death of our dear loved one. 'e especially thank those who ve of their blood and sent flow- s to the hospital, to the entire ospital staff, to the friends who ent floral offerings and by word and deed did their utmost to lessen our grief. May God's richest blessings abide with you.

SUPPLY BILL

000 To effect this reduction would cause injustice and much more discrimination that at present.

To Motorize National Guard.

The measure also would permit the national guard to motorize all field artillery regiments with light commercial vehicles, continue the officer strength of the army at 12,000 instead of renewing last year's rejected proposal of a reduction to 10,000, shorten the training period for members of the reserve officers' training corps from 42 to 30 days and cut recruiting expenses in half.

Likewise it would allow the air corps to make contracts for new planes to the extent of $3,000,000 in addition to giving an outright appropriation of $23,537,000 to that branch.

The specific projects for which the bill would allocate funds included Randolph Field, Tex., gymnasium, $90,000.

Although the bill made no specific allocations of funds for rivers and harbors or flood control works, the committee allowed, without change, the amounts asked by the budget bureau.

met in the presence of British naval officers there today to discuss peace terms. Results of the meeting were not divulged.

A Chinese officer representing General Ho Chu-Kuo, Shanhaikwan commander who lost that city to the Japanese last week, was reported to have met with the commander of the Japanese detachment stationed at Chainwangtao.

This Japanese detachment is a patrol force regularly stationed in the treaty port under provisions of the Boxer protocol of 1901. The meeting was reported held at the Japanese commander's headquarters. Further parleys were expected.

The official agency said "the army will advance into stern Jehol" from those points.

Further Chinese advices stated Japanese aerial raids between Suiching, 25 miles north of Shanhaikwan in Manchuria, and Lingyuan "wreaked considerable damage.

DISTRESS CALLS REORTED FROM SOVIET STEAMER

OTHER REPORTS CLAIM CONFUSION OF SIGNALS CAUSED BROADCAST

TOKYO, Jan. 12.—(AP)—A Rengo (Japanese) news agency dispatch said the Ochiishi wireless station today received distress calls from the Soviet steamer Sakhalin, 3,649 tons, and with 254 Russians aboard.

It gave its position as 53 degrees north, 146 degrees east. (In the sea of Okhotsk and east of the Island of Sakhalin on the northeast Siberian coast).

The Japanese government station at Ochiishi later tried to contact the Sakhalin but failed. There were 200 passengers reported aboard, the remainder being the crew.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 12.—(AP)—A confusion of radio messages early today told of the distress of the Russian steamship Sakhalin in the North Pacific. Japanese dispatches said 254 Russians were aboard.

The San Francisco coast guard station reported the N.Y.K. (Japanese) tanker Manju, and the State's line steamship General Pershing were standing by. The government radio station at Victoria, B. C., named these two craft as rushing to the assistance of the disabled vessel.

Mackay's Los Angeles radio station, however, reported the steamship Golden Dragon, 25 miles from Dairen, said there was no marine trouble, in the vicinity aside from the Japanese freighter Shimuzi Maru, being refloated from Taku Bar.

BROTHER OF GIRL ALLEGEDLY ATTACKED KILLS SAN ANTONIAN

SAN ANTONIO, Jan. 1p.—(AP)—"Your time has come."

With this terse statement, a man who accosted Albert James McCoy on a San Antonio street corner last night fired two bullets into his chest, fatally wounding him. A third shot went wild.

A young woman who had been strolling along the street with the 27-year-old athlete fled.

Immediately after the shooting Minus Doolittle, 24, surrendered a pistol to Traffic Policeman W. Cockrell.

Doolittle is the brother of Miss Mary Doolittle, who last July 11 charged McCoy with criminally attacking her. At that time she claimed that a man who had offered to take her home had taken her into the country instead.

McCoy had been releasd on bond in the attack case. His trial was set for next month.

Taken to police headquarters last night, Doolittle made a statement to Detective Captain Aubrey Hopkins. Justice of the Peace R. W. Stappenbeck rendered a verdict of murder for the slaying of McCoy.

It was learned that McCoy, sometimes known under the nickname "Jimmie Red", had been living as a civilian at Randolph field, the air school. He was the step-son of Master Sergeant Alfred H. Bailey.

MESSAGE

tions call for a far-reaching curtailment of public expenditures, to resolve the state's budget back to the shrunken level of values and the people's ability to pay."

Primary Problem.

Pointing out that condition as "the primary problem" that confronts the legislature, he said "great progress towards its solution has been made during the time I served as chief executive."

"But there is still much to be done in that direction, especially since the electorate of Texas has adopted a constitutional amendment exempting homesteads from state taxes to the extent of $3,000 assessed valuation," the retiring governor said. "This leaves a hole in the state's income estimated at from $5,000,000 to $7,000,000; a hole which must be filled by either that much additional new revenue or that much reduction in state expenditures, or some of both. My own view is that the retrenchment course is the right one, and for the sake of the public welfare, I sincerely hope that in your wisdom you will adopt it."

Governor Sterling said recommendations of the commission on organized and economy "are in the main disappointing."

"The changes it proposes would tend to concentrate the activities of the state too much in the hands of the governor, and for that reason I do not believe the report prepared by those experts from the north will be acceptable to the people of this democratic state," the governor said.

No Savings Forecast.

"While advocating the general uheaval that would throw the state into chaos, they have failed to show that the reorganization would result in any savings. * * *

"For instance, to mention only one of numerous proposals, which I regard as very unwise, it advocates putting one administrative officer in charge of vast affairs of the highway department, and doing away with the highway commissioners, who were selected by the governor with the advice and consent of the senate, from different sections of the state. To my mind that would be disastrous to the highway department, controlled by three efficient commissioners, it occurs to me that it would be folly to attempt to experiment with such radical changes."

Governor Sterling said taxation of homes, farms, ranches and other property should be discontinued for state purposes. He said the advalorem tax system should be "continued as a local tax; but the state should turn to other sources."

Tax Plans Discussed.

He expressed doubt, however, if either the income tax or the consumers' sales tax "would fully supplant the state ad valorem tax in Texas, unless the rate were made unreasonably high."

"It occurs to me that a well balanced plan for this state if it could be worked out practicably, would be a combination system of property taxes for local governments and both a sales tax and an income tax for state purposes, each made only high enough to raise the funds necessary for a frugal administration," he said.

Governor Sterling discussed accomplishments of his administration, which included:

Vetoed $3,621,897 of the biennial appropriations to meet an "indicated deficit of about $4,500,000 that confronted the state at the outset of my administration."

A saving of $500,000 annually by detections of an investigating committee of "the collection of fraudulent fees by certain county and district officers."

Savings Listed.

Savings of $500,000 annually by industrial reforms and efficient management of the Texas penitentiary system.

Efficient management of eleemosynary institutions made it possible to turn back into the treasury about $1,016,000 appropriated for their operation, the past year, while about 1,000 additional wards were cared for.

Military control of the East Texas oil field and passage of laws to conserve all petroleum pools so as to properly allocate that natural resource to its rightful owners and an "actual known savings of many millions of dollars to gross production taxes and property taxes, realized from the stabilization of production."

Development for oil of the Sabine river bed and its recovery for the state of its share of the petroleum estimated to ultimately amout "to from three to six million dollars."

Assumption by the state gasoline tax fund of outstanding county bonds issued for the purpose of building highways now a part of the state syste: He also advocated submission of a constitutional amendment designed to make this plan of tax relief permanent.

Administration of relief to Texas communities through the reconstruction corporation, the aid having been distributed through the chief executive of the state.

Voting Machines Advocated.

In advocating election law changes, Governor Sterling recommended adoption of the automatic voting machine.

He said the absentee voting law "should promptly be amended, so as to permit balloting in any box only by those honestly entitled to vote there."

He urged submission of a proposed constitutional amendment to increase the governor's term of office from two to four years.

"No matter how capable and adaptable a newly-elected governor may be, it requires months for him to gain the knowledge of his office that is necessary for full efficiency," he said. "And then, he works at this full efficiency scarcely more than a year beore he is subjected to the harrassing demands of a campaign for re-election. This he is compelled to neglect his duties for a considerable length of time, at an expense which he can ill afford, if he be a man of modest private means."

For the same reason, he said, he suggested that terms of state representatives be increased to four years and senators' terms lengthened from four to six years.

State Highway Department.

Praising work of the state highway department for the past six years, the governor said that "within that span Texas has been lifted out of the mud."

Reviewing efforts of the livestock sanitary commission to rid the state of fever ticks he said with proper co-operation this could be accomplished by the latter part of 1934.

"If Louisiana does not soon clean up, it may be advisable to fence the Sabine against cattle coming from that state," Governor Sterling said.

"Already a movement has been started looking to the fencing of the Texas side of the Rio Grande against Mexican cattle. I believe it would be economy for the state government to join with the federal government and the border land owners in running a fence along this river. It would not only prevent tick infestation but would reduce smuggling and thus decrease the number of border patrolmen needed."

THE VETO POWER

President Hoover will never know how it feels to march through a session arm in arm with congress. Every session during his administration has been marred by conflict between congress and the white house and the current short session is expected to prove least satisfactory of them all from the chief executive's point of view. The last official days of a defeated president are likely to be the most trying of his career.

His enemies in congress will not, however, find the president wholly at their mercy. He still retains one weapon with which to make his mark in history—the veto power.

New policies, which will take possession of the capital on March 4, are already laying siege to a wobbly and wavering congress, but though congress may fall before them Mr. Hoover may turn back the tide with the veto power. Should he cling to his principles to the last he would be following some distinguished prece[illegible]nts, notably those of Wil[illegible] and Taft.

[illegible]ior to the Civil war [illegible]dential policies were [illegible]n forced upon an un[illegible] congress by the use [illegible]veto power. Intense [illegible] strife has since [illegible]t a much used weap[illegible]

[illegible]resident Lincoln used [illegible]e "pocket veto" to kill a [illegible]ill opposed to his reconstruction policies. Presidents Johnson and Grant were not averse to using the veto. Congress also felt the force of the veto during the administrations of Cleveland, Taft, Wilson, Harding and Coolidge.

The veto has a psychological effect upon congress that is not to be discounted. It is one thing to get an anti-administration bill through congress but quite another thing to get it passed over the president's veto.

GEOLOGICAL MYSTERY.

Atlantic City is sinking into the Atlantic Ocean at the rate of six and one-half inches a century. Boston is sinking at the faster rate of eleven and one-half inches. Resting on solid rock, New York City is sinking at the rate of five inches. Coney Island's sinking feeling is more pronounced than that of all the rest, while Philadelphia's is least, but the latter city is far inland.

Erosion action of the waves upon the coast may account for these sinking shores, but how is one to reconcile that with the fact that Portland, Me., is lifting itself out of the ocean at the rate of seven inches every hundred years, and Charleston, S. C., at the rate of 15 inches? And Boston has had her rising spells as well as her sinking spells.

Here is one of the unsolved mysteries. Of course the geologists have their theories, but they do not agree and conclusive proof is lacking.

Earthquakes on the ocean floor or in distant countries may be the explanation for these shiftings. Or there may be things going on under the earth's crust of which the geologists know nothing.

For centuries to come there is nothing to worry about, unless the scientists wish to worry about their ability to solve the mystery of this inconstant and inconsistent coastline.

In a city where one out of every five citizens is arrested in a year the police are charged with loafing. Heaven help the other four if the police go to work.

PITY THE PRO

The golfing pro must careful be
That all his drives are straight
If playing golf he'd look like me
He'd meet a jobless fate.
'Tis mine to laugh where'er I go
And grin at failure, but
It's misery to the golfing pro
To miss a three-foot putt.

To him the game is not a game,
But work severe and tense,
'Twould rob him of his hard-earned fame
To slice beyond the fence.
A hook is just a shot to me,
Which I can laugh away,
But let the golf pro hook and he
Is troubled for the day.

I'll take my six or seven or eight
And never say a word.
But let that be the golf pro's fate.
His very soul is stirred.
I can go laughing with my friends
In ninety strokes or more,
But every golf pro's job depends
Upon a seventy score.

So gayly in the rough I go,
Untroubled by my fate,
Glad I am not a golfing pro
Whose shots must all be straight
That wife of mine would seldom see
New bonnet or a gown
If they dependent were on me
To run a short putt down.

DISTRUSTING THE EXPERTS

Far have the American people strayed from the old innocent conception of a democracy, in which one man's opinion is as good as another's. Certainly in high matters of state we do not so implicitly trust as we used to do the judgment of the "plain people."

The intense specialization of modern times, the spread of scientific idea, the extension of research, the need of conducting the public business on the basis of ascertained facts, all have made the expert in government service a far more familiar figure than he once was. He is more and more called into the counsels of prime ministers and presidents.

Experts have become of immense importance in every field. They are in demand in all professions and callings. Yet they have their limitations. With their great merits they have certain defects.

It is easy for experts to become too narrow, too intolerant, too arrogant. In their mastery of a single province they are tempted to believe that they should be of equal authority in all others.

Government by experts is likely to become a government for the expert. The specialist too often forgets that he is there to serve the public, and acts on the mistaken assumption that everything should serve the ends of his exalted purpose. His is the fault of institutionalism, where the institution established to cure some evil becomes devoted to its own perpetuation and loses sight of its original purpose.

TOO MUCH FATALISM.

There is one school of economic thought which refuses to excuse the economists, the government and the capitalistic system for the depression on the fatalistic alibi that the depression is a phase of a cycle beyond man's control. This school may be wrong, but at least it has not surrendered and dares to give battle to the inevitable, if this sickening dip in the economic curve was inevitable.

"Ox-age thinking" is blamed for "this futile and foolish depression" by Edward A. Filene, merchant and economist, and persons willing to admit the facts, though they take the wind out of the sails of the "great" captains of industry, financiers, statesmen and economists, agree with him.

The logic by which he arrives at his conclusions is as follows:

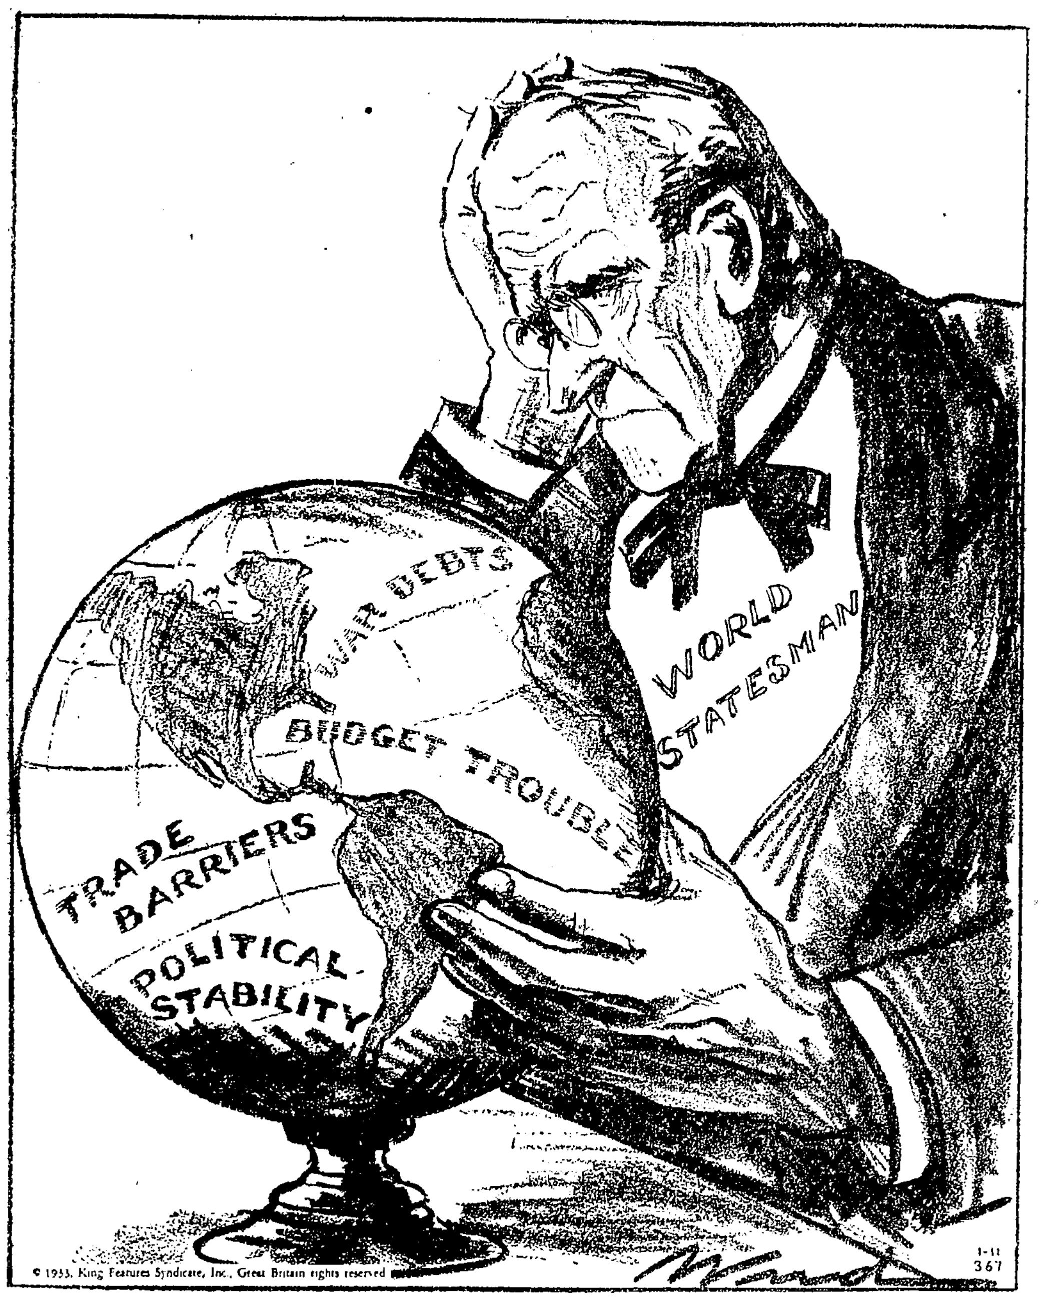
"We know how to produce goods We have engineers able to direct the necessary work, and we have millions of workers willing and more than willing to do the work required. Moreover, the work would not cost us anything, because it would be wealth-producing work and would pay for itself, whereas the present idleness of these potential workers and directors is costing us so much that the burden seems almost unbearable.

"In spite of all this, we put up with the idleness and poverty and staggering waste of human life, because, while we have the automobile, we haven't done any extensive automobile-age thinking yet."

He contends that the depression could have been prevented and would have been prevented had there been co-ordination between production and distribution and a little more application of engineering knowledge.

THE ANXIOUS CRYSTAL GAZER

---By Clive Weed



NEW AUTOCRACIES

Those two outstanding political experiments— fascism and communism—have several interesting basic similarities. Both believe in strict censorship of public opinion; both believe in suppressing dissenters all and sundry by jail sentences; both believe in governmental belligerent bureauacies; both are sworn enemies of all previous concepts of liberty.

European politicians of the old school some years ago were accustomed to say that Russian communism could not endure, that it would come to an end with the death of Lenin whose personality was sustaining it. But Lenin has been dead quite a few years and the soviet government seems more stable today than ever.

There are many political observers who still maintain that when Mussolini fades out of the picture fascism will pass with him. But if the history of Russian communism is to be accepted as evidence, and the similarities between it and Italian fascism justify the comparison, there is no valid reason for assuming that fascism will be more short-lived than its twin sister in Russia.

America's predictions that post-war dictatorships in Europe could not endure were inspired by the fallacious beliefs that what America deems intolerable other nations must also find unbearable. Fascism and communism—systems under which Americans could not live happily—seem to be acceptable to Italians and Russians.

A gas bomb drobbed on an American city would merely cause the inhabitants to wonder why so many drivers had the choke out.

Another thing they do better in Russia is the way they "liquidate" citizens who think some other country's system is better.

The fellow who wondered why congressional sessions are not broadcast made haste to add that he isn't insistent.

Europe's attitude toward America isn't new. Back in Aesop's time a man saved a snake and it bit him.

MILITARISTIC GERMANY

Those provisions of the Versailles treaty which proposed to disarm Germany for the sake of permanent world peace have defeated their own purpose, according to an analysis of the German situation in a current magazine.

Germany's regular army numbers 100,000 men today, but in her so-called private armies there are 1,300,000 men in uniform and under arms. Each of her major political parties maintains an army several times larger than the regular army of the United States. For what purpose remains to be seen.

Republican Germany is no different from Imperial Germany. The nation is still playing soldier. In fact, the legendary "Captain of Copenick," who bedecked like an opera bouffe general, ordered a squad of the Kaiser's soldiers to follow him, marched to the town hall where the mayor at his command turned over the treasury and the soldiers placed the mayor under arrest, could accomplish his practical joke more easily today than before the "disarming" of Germany.

The military is of the first importance everywhere in Germany. Is it possible that the old militarism is dead? This arming of vast private armies may end in a bloody civil war. It may precipitate another great European war. Nothing is certain except that it will not promote peace.

"The sounds of almost all musical instruments," says a writer, "have their parallels in nature." We still labor under an impression the saxophone is entirely man's own idea.

The first lesson in that proposed course on "How to Manage Women" would be on the proposition that it cannot be done.

It takes no Sherlock Holmes to tell a desk man now. Notice how his shoes are worn by the friction in the back.

It's impossible to put a keen edge on a man by keeping his nose on the grindstone.

Three-fourths of all motor vehicles are sold on credits. Riders pay as they go.

RAILROAD DICTATOR.

Politically the United States has no time for dictators and czars; in business and finance it is turning more and more to dictatorship. Several great industries are now under the iron heel of one-man rule and like it.

When the cinema empire threatened to topple of its own weight a decade ago the industry turned to a "czar." Divided, it faced disaster. United under one arbitrary head it weathered the storm.

Organized baseball was headed toward loss of public confidence and support because of internal friction, cut-throat competition between the clubs and corruption of players when it dumped its troubles into the lap of Judge Landis and made him the "czar" of all baseballdom. It proved good medicine.

North Atlantic steamship companies got into difficulties when their business fell off and elected their own Neptune to rule the seas. Little about their troubles has since been heard.

All this history about czars and dictatorship in America must be known to the railroad managements and probably had a great deal to do with the decision of 30 western roads to appoint an "umpire." "Umpire" Harry G. Taylor will have no power to enforce his ruling but the lines have agreed to accept his rulings as final, which amounts to the same thing.

His first job is to untangle the rate and schedule situation in which the western roads find themselves. Success in that venture will go far toward adequate railroad relief.

You don't really believe in a law if your neighbor can break it without losing your respect and friendship.

But when you hear an American suggest the idea of a dictatorship, he means with himself as it.

What this country needs just now is fewer view-with alarmers and more point-with-priders.

Manchuria now has its own national stamps—including a rubber stamp called the ruler.

You can't blame a truck for its manners. It contains more pig iron than an automobile.

Old-time doctors wrote books about sex, but they didn't call their work literature.

Women who roast others are not always good cooks.

MOUNTING DEFICIT AND LOW REVENUES FACE LEGISLATURE

MANY MAJOR SUBJECTS EXPECTED BE SUBMITTED TO SOLONS REGULAR TERM

AUSTIN, Jan. 10.—(AP)—Faced with a mounting deficit and heavy prospective decreases in revenue the 43rd legislature today was ready to start a four months' regular session at which balancing the budget by reductions in the cost of government and tapping of new sources of income will be paramount issues.

Both houses were set to convene at noon. Election of presiding officers was first on the order of business after the oaths of office had been administered.

The campaign for the speakership of the house saw Representatives Coke Stevenson of Junction and A. P. Johnson of Carrizo Springs engaged in a close contest. Senator Walter Woodul of Houston was reported to be an "agreed" candidate for president pro tem of the senate.

Senator Grady Woodruff of Decatur was slated to preside over the opening session of the senate in the absence of Lieutenant Governor Edgar H. Witt, convalescing from illness and an injured arm.

Governor R. S. Sterling planned to submit his parting message to the legislature as soon as the bodies were organized for business. He will retire after a two-year tenure, and relinquish the office to Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson, who served as Texas' first woman governor in 1926-27.

Many Major Subjects.

Included among the major prospective subjects of legislation were a sales tax; reduction of the number of state departments; economies in the educational system; reduction of salaries; laws affecting liberalization of the prohibition laws; election of law reforms; congressional, legislative and judicial redistricting.

Enactment of a selective sales tax to replace the state ad valorem tax on homesteads was a major subject of discussion as the legislators gathered. The electorate last November voted to exempt homesteads to the value of $3,000 from state property taxes, thereby sharply reducing the revenue of the state's three main funds, the general revenue, school and Confederate pension funds.

The legislature was presented with a report of its committee on organization and economy in which it was recommended that drastic reorganization of state departments be effected. The committee recommended reduction of the number of existing boards, departments, bureaus and commissions from 132 to 19.

The legislature also had before it a recommendation for reorganization of its educational system by abandonment of several of its teachres colleges and concentration of its institutions of higher learning under the University of Texas and Texas A. and M.

Salary Reductions.

Recommended reductions in the salaries of state employes of from six to 15 per cent were presented to the legislature by the board of control, which also submitted a budget that was several millions of dollars under the apportionment for the current biennium.

Considerable interest was evidenced in an anticipated effort to be made by Mrs. Ferguson and her chief advisor, Ex-Governor James E. Ferguson, to gain control of the state highway department, the largest division of the government, the board of control, and the game, fish and oyster commission, all of which have extensive lists of employes.

Legislation affecting the operation of the oil industry and the conservation of the state's natural resources was expected to prove a troublesome subject. A move to relieve the Texas railroad commission from its oil and gas conservation duties and vest regulatory authority in these mattes in a separate commission, was likely.

A committee of the 42nd legislature has been holding hearings and making investigations of conditions in the oil industry and will recommend changes in the exsting statutes.

Pipe Line Regulation.

More adequate regulation of oil pipe lines, especially concerning the rates charged, will be proposed as will a law to provide for disintegration of major companies in their respective component parts. A proposal similar to this, known as the oil divorcement bill, was defeated in the 42nd legislature.

Farmer members of the legislature were considering ways and means of combatting the recommendations of the organization and economy committee that the deartment of agriculture be abolished and its functions taken over by Texas Agricultural and Mechanical college. The legislature also will be asked, it was indicated by J. E. McDonald, commissioner of agriculture to direct its thoughts toward relieving the cotton farmer of the ills of low prices and overproduction. Excise taxes, including a tax on oleomargarine and one on jute, used extensively as a substitute for cotton, will be offered.

A proposal to change the basis of tax on oil from a tax based on the value of the oil to a straight barrel basis will be reintroduced in an effort to protect the state from fluctuations in revenue caused by the unsettled conditions in the oil industry.

Liberalize Liquor Laws.

Attempts to liberalize the state's prohibition laws were planned. It had been suggested that the penalties in the state's prohibition statutes be reduced to make the first two offenses misdemeanors instead of felonies and to provide for the sale of beer by a legislative declaration that beverages containing 3.75 per cent of alcohol by weight are non-intoxicating in fact.

Submission of a constitutional amendment to repeal the prohibition section of the constitution and provide for re-establishment of the local option plan also was planned.

Followers of sports will be interested in the movement to provide for legalized boxing and for legal betting on horse races. Bills to allow for both boxing and legal horse racing betting were defeated in the last legislature, but were regarded as having a measureably better chance of passage at this session.

Court reforms, involving reduction of the number of courts of civil appeals and district courts, and congressional redistricting were other major subjects of legislation.

Mother and Four Children Burned Death in Texas

PECOS, Jan. 10.—(AP)—Mrs. J. L. Pitts and her four children were burned to death when exploding gasoline destroyed their home at Buena Vista, 40 miles southeast of Pecos, last night. The husband and father was in a serious condition and was not expected to live.

It was the second time in ten days that five persons had been killed almost instantly in the Pecos valley as a result of explosions.

W. T. Hood, three of his children and a niece died when gasoline, mistaken for kerosene, was thrown on a wood fire at their home near Barstow, ten miles east of Pecos, the night of Jan. 2. A sixth member of the family died later and four others were seriously burned.

Two other women and a man were burned fatally in a separate but similar explosion in the vicinity of Pecos in the last six weeks.

Telephoned reports from Buena Vista today said the fire occurred when a five-gallon can of gasoline in the Pitts home exploded from an unknown cause.

Three of the children were girls and the other a boy. The bodies were taken to Fort Stockton, 30 miles to the south where Mr. Pitts also was given medical attention.

Five Members Of Baltimore Family Burned to Death

BALTIMORE, Jan. 10.—(AP)—Trapped by flames that swept through a three-story brick dwelling, five members of a family lost their lives here today

The dead are:

CECIL HEWITT, 53.

MRS. MAUDE HEWITT, 45, his wife.

CECIL, JR, 20, his son.

EVELYN, 16, his daughter.

CORINDA BOWEN, 25. Mrs. Hewitt's sister

A boarder at the Hewitt home, Miss Nettie Young, 50, saved herself by jumping from a second story window. She suffered a broken leg and minor burns.

The fire broke out on the first floor and crept up the stairway, apparently shutting off escape from the sleeping inmates of the house.

Mr. and Mrs. Hewitt, Cecil and Miss Bowen were discovered by firemen huddled together on the floor of the front, third floor bedroom. They appeared to have tried to get to the window.

One of the women was reported by neighbors to have reached a rear window and screamed, only to turn back in what appeared an effort to save the others.

County Judge, Navarro County,
Texas.

COUNTY FARM HEAD AND OTHER PLACES FILLED ON MONDAY

MANY BALLOTS NECESSARY IN NAMING FARM SUPERINTENDENT BY COURT

Election of a superintendent for the county farm, county health officer, fireman and janitor was made by the Navarro county commissioners' court at its session Monday afternoon. A discussion over the division of the road and bridge funds between the various precincts was held, but no action was taken. Several ballots were necessary in the election of a county farm superintendent and janitor, with C. E. McWilliams, county judge, breaking ties. Following the breaking the ties by the county judge, the elections were made unanimous.

Dr. W. W. Carter of Corsicana was elected county health officer. He was nominated by Commissioner J. W. Harris and the motion was seconded by Commissioner J. O. Sessions. Commissioner M. W. Roberts nominated Dr. Will Miller of Corsicana and Commissioner Jack Megarity nominated Dr. S. H. Burnett. On the second ballot, Dr. Carter was elected unanimously. The salary of the county health officer is $75 per month.

There were 20 written applications for the county farm superintendency. On the first ballot, Harris and Sessions voted for C. E. White, incumbent for the past four years. Roberts voted for Mack Lawrence and Megarity nominated Nick Parrish. On the second vote, the original vote was recorded except that Megarity hominated Tom Steele. Megarity nominated Mr. Bell on the third ballot and on the fourth, Megarity and Roberts voted for Lawrence and Sessions and Harris voted for White. After Judge McWilliams broke the tie vote in favor of Lawrence, the election was made unanimous. The salary is $65 per month.

Dave Kennemore, present fireman and yardman, was re-elected. His salary is $100 per month.

J. F. Jackson was elected janitor after Judge McWilliams broke the tie vote. This salary is $40 per month.

Jim Lewis, colored, present incumbent, was nominated by Harris and seconded by Sessions. Roberts nominated E. P. Jones and Megarity named H. T. Bray.

On the second ballot Megarity nominated J. F. Jackson and Roberts voted with him. Harris and Sessions voted for Lewis with McWilliams breaking the tie in favor of Jackson. The election was then made unanimous.

Road and Bridge Fund.

Sessions stated that he was in favor of dividing the road and bridge fund equally between the commissioners—25 per cent each. Megarity, Precinct 1 commissioner, immediately objected, citing a law that said the funds should be expended according to the collections. County Judge McWilliams looked up laws and it appeared Megarity's contention was upheld.

The road and bridge fund is in one fund, but for several years a gentlemen's agreement between the commissioners has been for Precinct 1 to have 28 per cent of the fund, with the other three precincts receiving 24 per cent.

Sessions contended that with the number of concrete roads in Precinct 1, less upkeep was necessary than in those precincts where most of the roads are dirst. Megarity countered with the declaration that more traffic was ov[illegible] Precinct 1 roads than on a[illegible] others as all traveled over Pr[illegible] cinct 1 roads coming to Corsica[illegible] which necessitated more repai[illegible] and work. Nothing definite w[illegible] done and no action was taken.

BABY SLEEPING IN CRIB WAS STABBED DEATH BY KILLER

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—(AP)—A black-handled stilletto, with a blade six inches long, was the only clue today as Detectives hunted a killer who murdered a baby boy in his crib.

Frank Michael Cammarano, 4-months old, was sleeping in a darkened room in the Bronx last night. His father, Amando, 25, was at night school. Other relatives chatted in an adjoining room.

Silently the killer crept on to a porch at the rear of the Cammarano home. The baby slept quietly at a pair of window curtains nearby parted and a hand thrust into the room. It grasped the stilletto.

The long knife inflicted a superficial wound, then another. A third time it plunged into the infant's breast, pinning the tiny form to the mattress.

Teresa Cammarano, 16-year-old aunt of the baby, thought she heard a noise and stepped into the room to investigate. She saw the knife quivvering in the child's body and screamed. Other relatives ran in—all except the mother, Josephine, who was held back so she might not see.

Police, calling in the most inhuman crime in a long time, said it looked like an act of revenge or jealousy but they could find nothing to support such a theory.

The baby's parents were married about a year ago, and the child was their first born.

BACH INTERPRETER DIES AFTER LONG ILLNESS THURSDAY

MADE BETHLEHEM, PENNSYLVANIA, FAMOUS BY BACH CHOIR FESTIVALS

BETHLEHEM, Pa., Jan. 12.—(AP)—Dr. J. Fred Wolle, whose organization of Bach music festivals made him nationally known in music circles, died today after a long illness He was 69 years old.

Through his organization of the Bach Choir Festivals, Dr. John Frederick Wolle brought national fame to Bethlehem, Pa.

The prestige of the little Pennsylvania town, gained through these festivals, was similar to that enjoyed in Europe by Bayreuth because of its Wagnerian festivals and of Oberammergau with its world renowned Passion Play.

After completing his musical education, Dr. Wolle won recognition as a composer of hymns and anthems and as a sympathetic interpreter of Bach's devotional compositions. He conceived the idea of the Bach Choir for more ambitious presentations of the work of that great master.

The choir was launched in 1898 and two years later, in the auditorium of the Moravian Church, where Dr. Wolle was organist, Bach's Mass in B minor was sung. With announcement that the Bach festivals would be presented annually, Bethlehem became the Mecca of music lovers on those occasions. The festival continued each year until 1905 when all that had been done previously was surpassed with a Bach cycle, which was given in three parts, each taking three days.

Goes to California.

In the summer of that year Dr. Wolle was chosen professor of music at the University of California, where he remained until 1911. In California he conducted symphony concerts in the great outdoor Greek Theatre and also organized the California Bach Choir.

Returning to Bethlehem he re-established the Bach festivals, which have been continued many years with an interruption in 1924 because of the serious illness of Dr. Wolle. His choir numbered 300 voices.

Born at Bethlehem, Pa., April 4, 1863, Dr. Wolle was the son of Rev. Francis and Elizabeth Weiss Wolle. Descended from a family, in which there were musicians for several generations, he showed natural talent and began his organ studies shortly after he was graduated from the Moravian parochial school.

In 1881 he became organist of Trinity Episcopal Church at Bethlehem and later organized the Bethlehem Choral Union and the Easton Choral Society. He went to Europe for further study under Rheinberger at Munich. On his return in 1885, he was appointed organist of the Moravian Church and later was given the organ of the Packer Memorial Church at Lehigh University. He filled both posts until 1905, when he went to California.

In July, 1886, Dr. Wolle married Miss Jennie Creveling Stryker of Hackettstown, N. J.

Two Dead From Storm.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 12.—(AP)—In the wake of its most terrific windstorm on record, southern California today counted its dead at two, its missing at three and property damage in excess of $1,000,000.

An accurate estimate of damage to agricultural crops will be unavailable for several days, but the loss is expected to equal that suffered by the oil industry, which reported $500,000 damage, most of which resulted from toppled oil derricks.

Lieut. Commander Carl Hupp of the light cruiser U. S. S. Raleigh, was swept overboard and drowned when he attempted to secure a boat attached to the ship while it was whipped about by the storm.

The other death from the storm is believed to be that of Theodore Krog, 71, retired seaman living in a houseboat at Cabrillo Beach.

Governor's Appointments.

The controversial question of governor's appointments came up for discussion on the senate floor with Senator George Purl of Dallas offering a resolution requesting the attorney general to tell the Senate the dates on which all appointments expire. Senator Purl explained that in that way the Senate could determine which appointments Governor R. S. Sterling, retiring chief executive, is entitled to make and which should be left for Governor-Elect Miriam A. Ferguson. The resolution was adopted.

Governor Sterling had sent up several appointments which faced probable opposition on the part of Ferguson friends in the senate, who felt that these appointments should be made by Mrs. Ferguson. Among these were appointments to three places on the board of regents of the University of Texas. Mrs. Ferguson will take office next Tuesday.

The senate passed a bill validating the congressional election to be held January 28 to select a successor to the late Daniel E Garrett of Houston.

MARKET PROBE

ficials of the New York Stock Exchange.

"I would have accorded the debentures the rating of an adequately protected businessman's investment on the basis of the prospectus," Winkler testified.

Any Substitution Possible.

Under the debenture agreement Winkler testified that the bonds of a "minor subdivision in China" could have been substituted for the collateral but that in any substitution the ratio of pay value would have had to be maintained.

"Is it unusual to permit a substitution on the basis of par rather than market value" Senator Fletcher (D. Fla.) asked

"It would have been except for the clause requiring maintenance of the ratio."

Senator Couzens (R., Mich.) asked the purpose of the substitution clause.

"Kreuger and Toll were doing business in every part of the world," the economist explained, "and it might have been necessary for them to put other bonds in this portfolio.

"French bonds were withdrawn early in 1930," he said, "and an equal par value of Jugo-Slavia bonds were substituted.

"At that time French bonds were regarded as secure, while Jugo-Slavian bonds were regarded as distinctly inferior."

No Legislative Remedy.

Couzens asked if there was no legislative remedy" for such practices.

"At the moment, I don't think there is, "Winkler replied.

"Wouldn't it help to put the international bankers and accountants in jail who permit these things to go on?" Couzens asked.

Winkler replied that congress might copy some of the better laws of foreign countries, suggesting the British company act which makes companies liable for misrepresentation in a prospectus on securities.

"Do you believe Lee-Higginson and Company (which marketed the bonds in this country) did their full duty to their customers in this case?" Couzens asked.

After a lengthy pause, Winkler said "I do not think so."

Marrinan asked if the collateral and assets back of Kruger securities were not being gathered in Sweden while America holds the liabilities.

"Kreuger and Toll securities, or rather insecurities, were sold in the American market whereas the collateral was deposited in Sweden," Winkler replied.

Would Violate Act.

He testified that a circular issued by Lee Higginson and Company in January, 1932, would clearly violate the British company act to which he had referred.

"It is a shrewdly and dishonestly drawn statement," Senator Couzens remarked.

The circular contended that Kreuger and Toll American certificates "are currently underpriced."

Frank Altschul, chairman of the stock list committee of the New York Stock Exchange, followed Winkler. After being sworn, he described his occupation as that of an international banker.

Altschul testified the listing of securities on the exchange gave no guarantee of their intrinsic value.

"We have to have evidence they have earning power" he added. "In this case we were mistaken."

"When did the stock exchange receive notification of substitution in this collateral?" Marriman asked.

"After the suicide of Kreuger," the witness said.

HEAVY DEMANDS ARE STILL BEING MADE UNITED CHARITIES

OVER THREE HUNDRED INDIVIDUALS SERVED BY ORGANIZATION WEDNESDAY

An idea of the demands still being made upon the United Charity organization, by both transients and residents, was given in a report this morning by Miss Augusta Helm, secretary, which showed that over 310 individuals, represented in 52 families and 9 transients, were served by the organization Wednesday. Miss Helm pointed out that yesterday's work was slightly heavier than usual, but that the daily average will almost approximate that figure.

Aid was given yesterday's cases by providing wood, groceries, meals, medical attention, and clothing. Most of the transients wanted meals, and were given them, as is the case every day. The secretary pointed out that no one was refused aid yesterday, although three cases that were not in the United Charity's jurisdiction were turned over to the proper organizations. One transient was offered work to pay for his meal, but refused work, and was turned away, Miss Helm said.

One sick transient was given proper medical attention Wednesday.

Much Flour Given.

In a brief general report of December's activities of her organization, Miss Helm pointed out that over 14,460 pounds of government flour were given during the month. She also said that six sick transients, many coming to the office with high temperatures, were given medical attention. Other cases of this nature included 2 people being given eye examinations, and one a physical examination.

"Many people still have the idea that we refuse to feed or help transients," Miss Helm declared, "but it is absolutely erroneous, as we provide meals to all who come to our office." She explained that work is provided many of them whereby they may earn their meals, and when the transients refuse to work, they are not given anything to eat. During fair weather the United Charities has a means of providing work for transients, so they can earn their meals, but in bad weather when it is impossible to work outside, meals are provided just the same.

"Yesterday we stayed at the office until 6 p. m., preparing transients' meals," Miss Helm said.

Long Session Held On Revision Beer

WASHINGTON, Jan 12.—(AP)—The senate judiciary sub-committee considering changes in the house 3.2 per cent beer bill reported "progress" after a long session today and Chairman Blaine said it would be ready to vote on its revised measure tomorrow.

The committee, Blaine said, ordered another redraft of some "tentative provisions" designed to remove all doubt as to the bill's constitutionality and all that remained to be acted upon was "one alternative proposition."

"It is merely a matter of being selective as to language and not any controversy in the committee," the Wisconsin republican added.

Examining Trials Scheduled for Two White Boys Today

Examining trials are scheduled for Thursday afternoon before Judge Sam B. Jordan for two white boys arrested Thursday by Deputy Sheriffs J. M. Westbrook and Jack Floyd.

Deputy Sheriff Westbrook also said the accused youths would also be charged with drunkenness.

Robber Is Slain By Cashier Bank Carmine, Texas

CARMINE, Jan. 12.—(AP)—A quick shooting assistant cashier cashier who whipped out a pistol and killed an armed robber prevented robbery of the Carmine State Bank of about $1,224.

The robber's accomplice, waiting in a getaway car parked outside the bank, was captured by officers. He gave his name as Campbell and said the slain man was Jack Snyder, of Oklahoma.

W. A. Plueckhahn, the assistant cashier, got his chance to drop the robber when officers attracted to the bank rapped on a rear door. The robber turned and Plueckhahn fired twice.

Previously the robber at the point of his pistol had forced Pluechhahn, W. H. Stuerner, president of the bank, and John Kraufe, a customer, to lie on the floor.

Then he ordered Pluechahn to rise and assist him in sacking the money. Plueckhahn had just finished handing over the sack of money when the officers' rapping diverted the robber's attention.

Will Pay Reward.

DALLAS, Jan. 12.—(AP)—An announcement from the office of the Texas Bankers' Association last night said the association would pay $5,000 to the official of the Carmine State Bankk who defended the bank's funds. The reward, established several years ago, is paid only for dead bank bandits and does not apply to capture.

Drive Against Extremists Costs Nineteen Lives

MADRID, Jan. 12.—(AP)—Nineteen extremists engaged in anti-government activities were reported to have been killed today when civil guards and assault guards bombed a house at Casa Viejas where they had taken refuge.

The government announced that the house was destroyed by hand grenades and for the present it was impossible to determine whether more than 19 of the occupants had been killed.

During the attack the extremists fired upon the guards, wounding 6. Elsewhere in the same city three houses were reported to have been burned in the drive against the extremists.

QUARTET ARRESTED NEAR ANGUS SUNDAY SENT TO FREESTONE

The two couples arrested near Angus Sunday night after an alleged attempt to hi-jack B. C. Caldwell, local automobile company official, will be turned over to Sheriff Jim Sessions of Freestone county Thursday afternoon. It was announced at the sheriff's office Thursday at noon.

The two men have been in jail for investigation since their arrest while their two women companions were released Monday. The two women were re-arrested on Thursday by county officials after Sheriff Sessions telephoned he wanted the quartet.

Bolt cutters, bee's wax, hack saws, drills and other articles were found in the large touring car Sunday night when State Highway Patrolman W. J. Hargett arrested the four following the reporting of the alleged robbery attempt.

Local officers did not know on what charge the Freestone county sheriff wanted the four prisoners here.

Flue Fire Alarm.

A blazing flue that resulted in no damage to the residence, caused a run for the fire department to the 800 block on East Third Avenue about 8:15 Wednesday night.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—(AP)—An advance in the last year from fourth to third rank in the world's military air strength is asserted for the United States by F. Trubee Davison, assistant secretary of war for aviation.

In testimony before the house appropriations sub-committee which drafted the war department supply bill, Davison said:

"Out tactical position is very much better today than it was at the beginning of the five-year program, in spite of all the difficulties we have gone through, particularly in the last three or four years."

BEAUTY CHATS

HOLLYWOOD TREATMENTS.

Home Massage Treatments

Miss Forbes tells you how to imitate at home the cabinet baths and massage treatments so popular in Hollywood. Read how in today's Beauty Chats.

The holidays and bad weather descended upon Hollywood at the same time. As there had been practically no rain at all between May and the middle of December (a shower or so in September, I am told), the streets were pretty slithery, and motor cars had to crawl for saf . So, what with Christmas shopping, studio work, the many charity committees that each prominent woman out here finds herself on, and slow traffic, life was pretty busy.

But not one woman neglected her looks for all that. The beauty shops—the good ones, that is—were just as crowded as ever. The usual weekly appointments for shampoo, wave, facial and manicure were made—and kept. For Hollywood has long since learned that it does not pay to go about looking careless. And when the income gets so low that beauty shop prices cannot be met, then the women here become their own beauty experts.

The various health clubs have been as crowded as at any time this year. Twenty to 30 minutes' good work-out in the gym, followed by anywhere from ten to 40 minutes in the squash court, followed by a plunge or a swim in the pool. Then—almost best of all—ten or 15 minutes in a cabinet bath, and a 25-minute massage. How well one feels and looks after this! Let me suggest a somewhat similar treatment for you at home. Soak in a very warm tub of water, with epsom salts in it, to open the pores. Roll up in an old sheet and two blankets, and lie down and sweat (ugly but useful word) for 15 minutes. Rub down with alcohol to close the pores. And go over your whole body with an electric vibrator with a rubber cap on it. This stirs and stimulates the blood, throws off fats, acids, poisons, soothes the nerves, and strengthens the muscles. It is the nearest you can come to massaging yourself. Do it aftter morning exercises.

Miss S. A.—A red nose indicates poor circulation, especially if you have it most when ou go out into a cold atmosphere. People who are bothered with it all the time have some disordered condition in the system, usually in the digestive tract.

Miss D.—The only way you cover up the dark spot on your skin will be to massage cream into it before applying a heavy coat of powder.

Anna F.—Liver spots bleach off gradually in most instances, but when they are a very deep color they may require the attention of a skin specialist. Sometimes these stains will dissolve with application of baking soda, or with sulphur rubbed into the spots every day for a couple of weeks. If no improvement shows after a few weeks' trial they will need skilled treatment. Dampen the soda with water and rub into the spot, as some of the soda will dry and remain on the skin for hours between applications. Sulphur may be made convenient for applications by dampening it with bay rum.

WOULD LEGALIZE SPECIAL ELECTION HOUSTON DISTRICT

AUSTIN, Jan. 11.—(AP)—Gov. R. S. Sterling today submitted to the legislature as an emergency queston a measure to eliminate any doubt as to the legality of the congressional election to be held in the Eighth congressional district Jan. 28.

The bill was sponsored by Senator Walter Woodul of Houston. Voters of the Eighth district will go to the polls January 28 to elect a successor to the late Congressman Danel Garrett of Houston. Some doubt had arisen as to the legality of electing a successor to Mr. Garrett for the new term beginning next March 4, because the vacancy will not exist until March 4. The election January 28 is for Mr. Garrett's unexpired term and for the new term.

A somewhat similar situation exists in the 15th congressional district. John N. Garner was reelected for the new term. He will not take the office because he will qualify as vice president on March 4. However, Democratic leaders in that district have worked out a plan whereby the final election will not be held until March 28 after the office has become vacant. Two primaries will be held February 18 and March 4.

There was a little selling from the South and through brokers with co-operative connections at the opening, but the light offerings were taken by trade buying which came partly from the continent and Liverpool. Wall street and western interests again bought during the early trading and by the end of the first half hour active months were 8 to 10 points net higher, March having advanced from 6.20 to 6.30 and July from 6.46 to 6.54.

The New York cotton exchanges estimated domestic consumption for December at 437,000 bales against 503,000 in November and 415,000 in December a year ago. The daily rate in December was about 19,000 bales against 21,400 in November and 18,000 in December last year.

The early advance was followed by reactions of 7 to 8 points under realizing, combined with some further southern selling but the small offerings were absorbed by the trade and prices stiffened again later. After easing to 6.23 March rallied to 6.29 and the market at midday was steady at net advances of 7 to 9 points.

New Orleans Cotton Steady.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 12.—(AP)—Cotton opened quiet but steady today. Cables were about as due and first trades here showed gains of one to two points. Near the end of the first hour the market was steady at the highs. Traders appeared to be awaiting the action of congress on farm aid legislation.

The market ruled steady with moderate trading all morning. March advanced to 6.30, May to 6.42 and July to 6.54, or 10 to 12 points above yesterday's close.

Near noon, the market was still steady, keeping at the highs.

The British board of trade returns for December were considered bullish, showing exports of cotton cloth at 106,000,000 square yards as compared with 150,000,000 in December of 1931.

Pat O'Keefe Is Dead From Heart Attack Thursday

DALLAS, Jan. 12.—(AP)—Pat O'Keefe, 84, prominent citizen of Dallas and well-known at conventions of the National Democratic party, died today after a heart attack.

O'Keefe was stricken while he sat in the living room of his home last night. A physician was called immediately but held no hope for his recovery.

At the national Democratic conventions, O'Keefe always was called upon to dance a jig, and he responded with vigor. The last convention, in Chicago last July, was the first one he had missed in many years.

SCHOOL HOUSES HAVE BEEN BURGLARIZED STOVES ARE MISSING

County officers are seeking clues relative to the identity of persons responsible for the burglarizing of school houses in the northeastern part of the county during the past several nights.

The Montfort school building was burglarized Wednesday night and the stove and all the stove pipe are missing.

The negro school house south of the county farm near Petty's Chapel was entered Sunday night and the stove and all the stove pipe were missed.

Officers are of the opinion both jobs were done by the same parties.

Wheat closed weak, 5-8 to 1 1-8 under yesterday's finish, corn 1-8 off to 1-4 up, oats 1-4 down, and provisions varying from 7 cents decline to 5 cents advance.

MARKET ENCOUNTERS SEVERE TEST PROFIT TAKING THURSDAY

ADVANCE QUIETLY RESUMED HOWEVER AND NUMBER OF SHARES SHOW GAINS

NEW YORK, Jan. 12.—(AP)—A trickle of selling, in sympathy with wheat's weakness, fell on the stock market near the close today and earlier gains were replaced by net losses of fractions to more than a point. Rails held fairly steady. Transfers approximated 800,000 shares.

By CLAUDE A. JAGGER,
Associated Press Financial Editor.

NEW YORK, Jan. 12.—(AP)—The stock market encountered a fairly severe test of profit-taking in early trading today but quietly resumed the advance.

A number of shares showed gains of 1 to 2 points. The rails were firm in response to additional November earning statements. Tobacco stocks gained slightly, the annual report of the R. J. Reynolds Company being favorably received. Drug, Inc., rallied on announcement of its sale of control of the Boots Pure Drug Co. of England.

Gains of a point or more were recorded by Allied Chemical, Case, Drug, Goodyear, Union Pacific, American Tobacco B and Continental Can. Stocks which advanced 2 or more included Brooklyn-Manhattan Transit and Columbian Carbon. Substantial fractions were added to the prices of Du Pont, Eastman, American Telephpone, New York Central, American Can, Firestone, Public Service of New Jersey, Consolidated Gas. Lesser gains were made by U. S. Steel, General Motors, National Biscuit, Standard of New Jersey, Southern Pacific, Pennsylvania and Santa Fe.

Curb Changes Narrow.

By JOHN L. COOLEY,
Associated Press Financial Writer.

NEW YORY, Jan. 12.—(AP)—Activity on the curb market simmered down considerably today, with price changes narrow and mixed.

Professional traders tried to a rally in Utility stocks during the forenoon but had little success, for the best gains were only fractional.

American Superpower first preferred encountered a little profit-taking, but United Gas senior shares rallied a point in a fairly large turnover. Electric Bond and Share common pushed up nearly a point and then halted.

Specialties and industrials were irregular. Singer manufacturing rose 3 points to a par on a few early sales. Mining issues showed firmness, but only a few members of that group were particularly active. Deere, Swift and Ca., and Cord Corp., eased at times. Stutz motors was steady. Oils were dull.

For failure of the companies to maintain New York transfer offices, the curb removed from listing these issues; chain store stocks, Inc., common; All American General Corp., Vick Financial Corp., common; and Henry Klein and Co. $20 par preference.

REMINISCENCES OF FOOTBALL SEASON HEARD BY CIVITANS

FOUR MEMBERS OF TIGER TEAM DISCUSS OUTSTANDING EVENTS PAST SEASON

Reminiscences of outstanding events of the past football season in the Tiger's march to the state championship were given at the Civitan Club's luncheon meeting Thursday noon at the Navarro hotel by Schuler Murphy, Cotton McGee, Robert Finley and John Kessinger. Rev. E. T. Miller, pastor of the First Baptist church was in charge of the program.

Next Thursday the three luncheon clubs will have a joint meeting, at which time Dr. Robert Hill, eminent Dallas geologist and writer, will make the principal address.

"Inside Football," was the subject assigned Murphy, Tiger quarter, and he told of the quarterback's job. He said the first thing is to feel out the opposition's defense, and also to feel out the strength of his own men. Scoring tactics inside the 20-yard line were discussed, as were the secrets of good passing, punting, quick kicking, and what goes on in the huddle.

The Cleburne-Corsicana game was branded as the hardest game of the season, in the opinion of John Kessinger, who spoke upon the subject, "The Hardest Game the Tigers Played this Year." He pointed out Cleburne was playing over its head, as Waco did when the Tigers met them. He cited instances in several other games that were difficult for the team to overcome.

Robert Finley, punter de-luxe told of the things in his estimation it takes to make a good team. He first said attitude of the players, in regards to sacrifices, attitude toward training, and attitude toward the coaches. He named determination as the second requisite to a good team and unity as the third one. Finley's last requisite for a good team, is the competent coaching staff, and he said Corsicana had the best in the state.

Cotton McGee expressed the appreciation of the team to the three luncheon clubs for the Civitan Tiger Loyalty Banquet, and then chose as his topic, "The Reason We Nearly Lost to Temple."

"We went over there to have a good time," McGee declared. "We thought we had a cinch, but in the end we learned we had to take fotball more seriously in the future, or hang up our moleskins for the year," he said.

Robert Cason reported on the Tiger Loyalty Banquet, and said a check for $138 will be turned over to the P. T. A. free food fund this afternoon.

Mystery Solved?

A recent photo of former State Senator R. S. McCoin, of Raleigh, N. C., whose mysterious disappearance may be solved following receipt of a letter by a State Supreme Court judge. The letter, which was anonymous and mailed from Chicago, stated that McCoin was murdered near Petersburg, Va., because he refused to pay damages to four boys who crashed their car against his. The Senator's body, according to the letter, is buried near Hagerstown, Md.

HOUND DOG WAS SEQUESTRATED BY SHERIFF THURSDAY

A hound was sequestrated by the sheriff's department Thursday morning from Ben and Jack Armstrong who reside in the northeastern section of the county, it was reported Thursday afternoon.

This canine figured prominently in events surrounding an altercation several days ago in which Ben Armstrong was shot in the left arm with a pistol, and the result of which Armstrong is in jail and Charles McCarter is at liberty on bond on formal complaints for assault with intent to murder.

The case was presented to the Navarro county grand jury several days ago, but no indictments have been returned.

The dog is being kept in the possession of Sheriff Rufus Pevehouse.

A New Day on the Way

I believe you will agree that recent events indicate a New Day for Real Estate. In the new administration there is cheer for the farmer. I firmly believe that American Agriculture stands today a better chance to get some constructive help than ever before, and I do not hesitate to say that I believe general prosperity depends upon agriculture, (Stock Farming).

Nobody expects to wake up suddenly and find prices of Farms and City property booming, (unless we strike another oil field), but these extreme distressed and repossessed properties are not going to last always,—you better get yours while getting is good, and on such remarkable bargains—small cash payments and on such easy terms.

Wake to These Opportunities

This 60 acre Oil Farm close-in producing field near Corsicana. Never been leased, or drilled. Near New Highway. Good level pecan land cultivated, with a few big bearing pecan trees, house and fine well. Price only $65.00 per acre. $500.00 cash and terms. Possession if sold but not for rent.

Think of this! 110 acres near Refinery at Angus, 8 miles south of Corsicana, for only $20.00 per acre. Not leased for oil. Black bottom and level pecan sandy land, house and barn. SEE—What Cash will do?

BEAUTIFUL COTTAGE HOME! Sacrifice-Half Price. 1916 West Seventh avenue. $300.00 Cash and Easy Terms, like rent. Five rooms with modern conveniences. Paved street. Close to school. Built for a home and will please you in every respect at the price. Open for Inspection December 1st.

For Exchange

A REAL CITY HOME IN MEXIA! For CORSICANA Residence. Match equities or consider small farm close to Corsicana.

GARAGE and FILLING STATION! To trade for farm, and assume difference. Well established. Cheap Rent. Dandy Location. Owner sick and must get out. If interested, come and talk it over right away.

SUBURBAN ACRE NEWLY IMPROVED! To trade for Hogs or Yearlings. Situated about 2 miles west on Paved Road. Will sell for $1000.00 if all cash. This place cost $2,500.00 recently, and is clear, but must sacrifice to get in business.

Many have told me—If I had money, I sure would buy real estate NOW. You know there are people that have money but hesitate to part with it, but the right thing to interest them must be presented and at a low down-price, but if any body can sell them I can, so list your property with the man who is trying to start the ball rolling. No expense to you unless sale is affected, why wait?

QUORUMS PRESENT IN BOTH HOUSES AS ORDER CALLED FOR

ELECTION OF SPEAKER IS FIRST ORDER OF BUSINESS BEFORE HOUSE TODAY

AUSTIN, Jan. 10.—(AP)—The Texas legislature convenied in 43rd biennial session at noon today. Quorums were present in each house.

The electorate had brought about an unusual shakeup in the house of representatives as its membership was constituted in the last legislature. A majority of those in that branch assumed law making roles for the first time. One-third of the senate membership was new.

Mrs. Jane Y. McCallum, secretary of state, called the house to order, and Mrs. Louise Snow Phinney, chief clerk of the house the past three legislatures and a candidate for that place this time administered the oath to the membership collectively. There was only one of her sex a member this time. Four women were in the house last term and three of those sought to be re-elected, but only one member of their sex, Mrs. Sarah T. Hughes of Dallas, a lawyer, survived the voting. Miss Margie Neal of Carthage is the only woman member of the senate.

The senate was convened by Senator Grady Woodruff of Decatur, president pro tem. The lieutenant governor, Edgar Witt, was absent. He has been in a Washington hospital for several weeks. He planned to be here next Tuesday for his inauguration to a second term.

Governor R. S. Sterling, who will relinquish the executive chair to a woman, Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson a week from today, has completed his final message. It was not likely it would be read to the legislative body before tomorrow, however.

First business before the house was election of a speaker. A. P. Johnson of Carrizo Springs and Coke Stevenson of Junction were seeking that place.

The hall of the house of representatives was full of men, women and children for hours before the time set for the gavel to fall. Most of the visitors were seeking endorsements for clerical places the legislature will open up.

When the sergeants at arms [illegible]arted clearing the hall, many of [illegible] crowded into the galleries, [illegible] already were well filled. [illegible]s and corridors of the [illegible] were crowed. The senate [illegible] also was filled with vis[illegible]ob seekers.

[illegible] Obsolete Oath.

[illegible]nney repeated the obsolete [illegible] in which it is affirmed [illegible]nt "never has fought a [illegible]acted "as a second."

[illegible]irst no effort was made [illegible]etely to clear the hall of the [illegible] throng, but before the elec[illegible]n of a speaker was taken up, [illegible] resolution was adopted directing that all but members and their families be denied privileges of the floor.

Senator Walter Woodul of Houston, close friend of Governor R. S. Sterling, was elected president pro tempore of the senate without opposition. Due to Lieutenant-Governro Witt's illness, the president pro tempore was expected to be called upon to preside more this session than is usually the case.

Members of the senate caucused for two hours before opening of the session but did not finish solution of their troublesome problem of naming the employes and fixing their salaries. It was indicated that the number of employes would be at least as great as during the last regular session, approximately 100, but some of the senators were contending that their salaries should be reduced. The caucus was recessed until late this afternoon.

Woodruff Administers Oath.

Senator Woodruff administered the constitutional oath of office to all the Senators who were elected last November. Nine of the sixteen who took the oath of office were making their first appearance as a member of a state legislative body. In addition, Senator Cecil Murphy of Gainesville saw only a few days of service during the last special session of the 42nd legsilature.

The fifteen remaining senators were holdovers. All were present except Senator Junian Greer of Elkhart.

The nine new members of the senate were E. J. Blackert of Victoria, Wilbourne B. Collie of Eastland, Arthur P. Duggan of Littlefield, Ernest Fellbaum of San Antonio, Will D. Pace of Tyler, John S. Redditt of Lufkin, K. M. Regan of Pecos, Roy Sanderford of Belton and Albert Stone of Brenham.

Bob Barker of Fort Worth, veteran senate secretary, was re-elected without opposition.

Senate Recesses.

The senate was in session only an hour, recessing until tomorrow.

Nominating speeches for the house speakership delayed a vote there. Balloting was to be secret. Every member of the house was present.

Johnson was nominated by Olin R. Van Zandt of Tioga, one of three blind members of the house. Seconding speeches for Carrizo Springs man were made by R. B. Anderson of Johnson county, B. F. Haag of Midland, C. M. Turlington of Ruck county and Ben Cathey of Marshall.

Stevensons' name was formally presented by J. L. Goodman of Franklin, 80 years old, who was a member of a Texas legislature 42 years ago. His speech was seconded by Robert W. Calvert of Hillsboro, W. B. Dean of San Saba, J. W. McCullough of McKinney, and George Moffatt of Chillicothe.

Start Installation Of Bakery Machinery State Home Building

Installation of machinery in the bakery at the State Home has started, it was announced Wednesday morning by J. S. Halley, superintendent. The machinery is being installed in the new dining hall which was erected a few years ago.

When completed the bakery will have a capacity of several thousand loaves of bread daily, enough to care for an institution twice the size of the Home at present.

The plant is expected to be in operation within 30 days and it is being installed by workmen at the Home under the direction of a Mr. Pillow.

GENERAL CONDITIONS OVER ENTIRE COUNTRY IMPROVED OPINION CORSICANA BANKER

"General conditions in the entire country are better today because the monied interests and the people in general have become reconciled to changed conditions, have made the necessary adjustments and are now determined to make the best of the present situation. Local conditions are not likely to change materially until some relief is given to commodity prices," said J. N. Edens, president of the First National Bank and member of the Southwest Advisory Committee of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation as well as a leading member in Texas banking circles, as he summarized the results of the past year and the prospects of the future.

Banks in Better Condition

Banks in all parts of the country are in much better condition than they were twelve months ago according to Mr. Edens because they have had sufficient time to make necessary readjustments. Their own affairs have been put in good order and they are now in a position to resume their former places in the community.

Discussing the pending farm relief measure before congress the banker said that he had not studied the measure carefully enough to be familiar with its provisions, and that the changes being made in it were too rapid but that he was assured that it was at least a step in the right direction, regardless of its results in that it attempted to stabilize the price of agricultural commodities and at the same time control production by limiting the portion of the average yield over a five year period upon which a farmer could secure the debenture.

Agriculture Basis Wealth.

Mr. Edens declared that the events of the last few years had proven that the policy of giving all possible protection by tariff and otherwise to commerce and industry was ill-founded and for the first time in the history of America some attention was being paid to agriculture—the basis of all wealth and prosperity.

Turning to the banking bill now before the United States senate, the Corsicana banker said that he was familiar only with the general outlines of the measure, and that it included a number of needed changes; he said that it also included some points that were drawing fire from many sources.

Concerning the provisions for branch-banking against which a determined fight is being made, Mr. Edens said that it would be years before the larger banks of the country would be strong enough to control the community banks. Community banks have the decided advantage of knowing local conditions and of having the confidence of the communities behind them he said.

Conditions Changing.

Business conditions are changing rapidly at present because of the radio, and wide circulation of newspapers, which are educating the people even in the most remote rural section, and enable them to keep informed on the leading issues of the day both social, economic and political, the banker stated.

Continuing on the value of a strong community bank, Mr. Edens asserted that in almost every point in Texas and elsewhere, where a strong community financial institution could be found, there would also be found surrounding the bank a strong community that was able to weather almost any storm or undertake any worthwhile project.

TWO COLORFUL SENATORS IN SHARP EXCHANGE OVER DEBT SITUATION MONDAY DEBATE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—(AP)—Two of the senate's most colorful figures—Borah of Idaho and Johnson of California—came to grips yesterday in another explosive debate, with war debts touching off the powder.

The core of it was an assertion by Johnson that the Idahoan had withheld pertinent information from his colleagues when the Hoover moratorium was before the senate.

Borah first took the floor to repeat statements he made a week ago that the administration had reached an understanding with Premier Laval of France in 1931 on some form of debts consideration.

Borah's reiteration of his assertions followed the placing into the senate record of letters from Secretaries Stimson and Mills in which they denied that any cancellation or prevision commitments were made at that time.

Then the Californian arose and took Borah to task for not revealing to the senate what information he had when the moratorium proposal was pending.

To that Borah replied that he assumed Johnson "kept himself informed," but in the future he would "start a kindergarten."

"All right," the stocky California senator retorted "I trust the senator will"

"He will have the senator from California for the first student," Borah returned.

"He will have a kindergarten which the senator from Idaho has not observed in this discussion," said Johnson. "It will be a kindergarten of disclosure and of good faith."

In the exchange, which was one of the sharpest in the senate history, Borah asserted that all his information could have been obtained from public records and the press and that during the senate consideration of the moratorium he had expressed his views to newspaper men.

Treasury Figures.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—(AP)—Treasury receipts for January 7 were $6,849,661.44; expenditures $14,654,164.47; balance $491,697,842. Customs duties for 7 days of January were $4,377,349.00.

STERLING BRANDS RUMORS THAT ELY WILL RESIGN AS "MALICIOUS PROPAGANDA"

AUSTIN, Jan. 10.—(AP)—Governor R. S. Sterling today referred to reports that W. R. Ely, of Abilene, chairman of the Texas highway commission, intended to resign, as "malicious propaganda."

Ely was in Austin, but could not be contacted immediately.

Reports have been in circulation for several days that the highway chairman would leave office when Governor Sterling's administration ended next Tuesday at noon.

"Reports that Ely intends to resign are malicious propaganda," Governor Sterling stated.

The term of Cone Johnson of Tyler, one of three members of the highway commission, will expire next month, giving Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson, who will be inducted as governor next Tuesday, the privilege of filling the vacancy.

The third member is D. K. Martin of San Antonio. Ely was a member of the commission when Governor Sterling was its chairman for four years before he became chief executive. Martin is a Sterling appointee.

Should Ely and Martin remain on the commission it was expected Ferguson administration would attempt to get control of the highway department by asking the legislature to increase its personnel to five or seven members, thus giving the governor the appointment of a majority of its membership.

It was pointed out that should Ely resign, Governor Sterling could make an appointment of Ely's successor subject to the senate's confirmation, before he retires from office.

Reports also were circulated that Martin might resign with Ely, thus giving the retiring governor the privlege of naming successors to both with consent of the senate.

Political gossip had it that if the governor's selections were of persons not too antagonistic to the Fergusons the proposal to increase the commission membership might not be pushed.

Texas Democrats Plan Washington Visit In March

DALLAS, Jan. 11.—(AP)—Plans for a pilgrimage of Texas democrats to Washington for the inaugural of Franklin D. Roosevelt as president and John N. Garner as vice president were announced last night by Jed C. Adams, democratic national committeeman.

He said arrangements had been made with railroads to operate a special train from Fort Worth and Dallas, leaving March 1, with stops en route at Detroit, Texas, the birthplace of Garner, and at Monticello, the Virginia home of Thomas Jefferson. PRESIDENT URGES PROMPT ACTION ON ARMS CONVENTIONS

HOOVER ASKS ACTION TO PREVENT TRADE IN WEAPONS WARRING NATIONS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10. (AP)—President Hoover, in a special message to congress, today urged either the speedy ratification of the projected convention to suppress trade in implements of war or special legislation empowering the chief executive to limit or forbid shipment of arms for military purposes.

The message, which has been awaiting presidential approval for several weeks, did not mention any specific conflict such as the unofficial Sino-Japanese war or the differences between Paraguay and Bolivia in the Chaco.

The chief executive said, however, that either ratification of the international convention signed at Geneva in 1925, or the special legislation to forbid arms shipments in cases where co-operation could be secured with other major arms manufacturing nations would aid in the "prevention and limitation of war."

Recent events, the president said, have emphasized a need for more authority in the control of shipments of arms from the United States for military purposes.

"There can be no doubt," he said, "that the control of such shipments to areas of prospective and actual international conflict would greatly aid the earnest and unceasing efforts which all nations now make to prevent and lessen the dangers of such conflicts.

"However, for one nation alone to engage in such prohibitions while other nations continue to supply arms is a futility. Moreover, it would tend to give advantage to one nation over another by increasing the war potentialities in manufacture and skill of non-cooperating nations."

The president indicated he believed it would be "impossible" for the senate to ratify the international convention suppressing trade in arms, signed at Geneva, and added that if this wer the case "it is urgent that legislation should be passed conferring upon the president authority in his discretion to limit or forbid shipment of arms for military purposes in cases where special undertakings of co-operation can be secured with the principal arms manufacturing nations."

Full Text of Message

The president's message follows in full:

To the Senate and House of Representatives:

Recent events have emphasized the urgent need of more authority to the executive in control of the shipment of arms from the United States for military purposes. There can be no doubt that the control of such shipments to areas of prospective and actual international conflict would greatly aid the earnest and unceasing efforts which all nations now make to prevent and lessen the dangers of such conflicts.

However for one nation alone to engage in such prohibition while other nations continue to supply arms is a futility. Moreover it would tend to give advantage to one nation over another by increasing the war petentialities in maufacture and skill of on-cooperating nations.

Agreement Before Senate.

There is before the senate an international convention for the suppression of interational trade in arms and ammunition and implements of war signed at Geneva, June 17, 1925, awaiting ratification. This convention has been adhered to by a large number of the other important nations and is practically stopped through failure of the United States to adhere to it. Its ratifications would contribute to the end being sought by the entire world for the prevention and limitation of war. I earnestly urge that this convention should be ratified.

If, however, it is impossible, as seems to be the case, for the senate to now ratify this treaty it is urgent that legislation should be passed conferring upon the president authority in his discretion to limit or forbid shipment of arms for military purposes in cases where special undertakings of co-operation can be secured with the principal arms manufacturing nations.

While such a measure would not accomplish the whole of the purposes which the advance thought in the world requires, it would at least enable the executive in special cases to place the United States in line with other nations who are willing to make such sacrifices in the prevention of military conflict.

I therefore urge that this convention should receive ratification of the senate now, or alternatively that legislation to the purpose mentioned should be promptly enacted.

I attach hereto the views or the secretary of state upon this subject. HERBERT HOOVER.

Primary System Chosen to Name Congressman

AUSTIN, Jan. 10.—(AP)—The democratic nominee for the congressional post to be vacated March 4 by Speaker John N. Garner, vice president-elect, likely will be chosen in two primaries February 18 and March 4, the latter a run-off between the two high men in the first primary.

State and 15th district party leaders agreed on these dates at a conference here yesterday and the district executive committee was expected to issue the official call within a few days.

The conferees decided to ask Governor-elect Miriam A. Ferguson to set the final general election for March 28.

D. W. Price of Uvalde, district chairman, had called a primary for February 4 but he withdrew that call and agreed to the later dates in order that officials might have time to check poll taxes, payable until January 31.

PROBE ORDERED OF WAR RISK INSURANCE CASE IN CHICAGO

CHICAGO, Jan. 11.—(AP)—In what he said was an effort to determine if a conspiracy to defraud the government existed, Federal Judge John P. Barnes has ordered a grand jury investigation of a $5,000 war risk insurance case.

The court halted the case abruptly yesterday and cited the plaintiff for contempt.

United States District Attorney Dwight H. Green in commenting upon Judge Barnes' action said the jury was unlimited in the scope of its investigation and might extend it to include any of 500 similar cases pending and involving $5,000,000.

The case was brought by a former veteran, Richard Birdwell, 42, a negro, on a plea that he had contracted tuberculosis while in the service in France.

He was represented in court by Attorney Edward H. S. Martin and expert testimony was given by Orlando F. Scott, physician and psychiatrist. The name of State Senator James J. Barbour appeared as a counsel in the records. Barbour denied any interest in the case, declaring he and Martin have offices together but are not associated.

Government witnesses testified Birdwell was suffering from chronic bronchitis and not from tuberculosis.
